Stavanger Bombed Again By R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry this evening announced the Royal Air Force bombed Stavanger today for the sixth time since the Germans occupied that port on the southwest coast of Norway.

(The B.B.C. reported today that in the latest raid on Stavanger airport the R.A.F. sank at least two seaplanes and bombed an airfield. The attack was made during a snowstorm.)

See story of last night's and yesterday morning's raids on page 2.

The London broadcaster said the information was contained in a Norwegian communiqué.

No immediate explanation was available here why a neutral state should darken its coast.

ALIEN ROUND-UP

BRUSSELS (CP)—It was announced after a cabinet meeting here tonight that the Belgian government was establishing a concentration camp in Ruysselede, western Flanders, for suspect aliens.

Further evidence of official tension in the low countries was seen in an announcement from Amsterdam that any ship over 440 tons entering or leaving the Ems River at Delfzijl, near the border, between Germany and Holland, would be fired at unless it took aboard a Dutch pilot.

Scouting Groups Fight

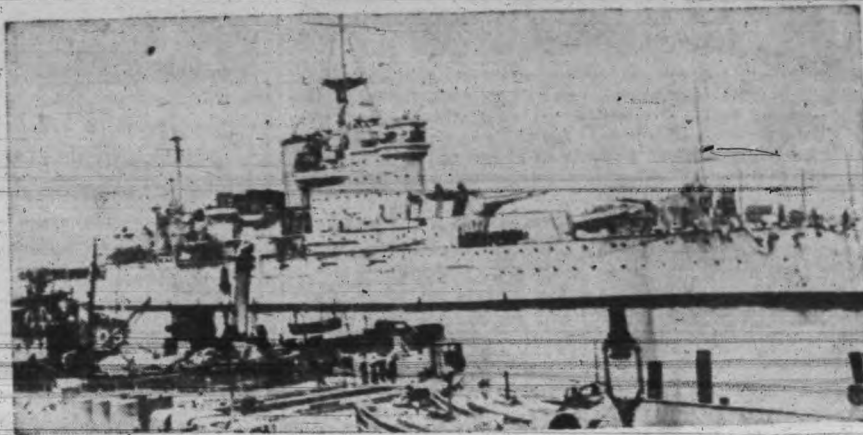

PARIS (AP)—The French high command's regular evening communiqué said:

"Sharp local engagements, one east of the Moselle and the other at the frontier of the Palatinat, between enemy detachments and two of our reconnaissance parties."

Excellent Morale

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Members of the Canadian Active Service Force in England are "in fine fettle," Lieut. Col. W. A. Harrison, Saint John, member of Canada's War Supply Board, said in an interview here following his return from a visit to Great Britain.

Sinks 7 Nazi Destroyers

A British naval attack in Narvik fjord, led by the 31,100-ton battleship Warspite, above, and strong force of destroyers resulted in destruction of seven German destroyers. British Admiralty announces. Only three of the British destroyers were damaged, but not seriously. (Telephoto.)

Picture Nazi Censors Missed

In defiance of regulations, carrying out penalties, this picture was taken in the port of Hamburg, Germany. The film, smuggled out on a neutral ship, shows dense clouds of smoke and flame belching from a Nazi minelayer in the background, sabotaged as she lay moored at the quayside. Manoeuvring near the minelayer which was blown up a few minutes before the picture was taken, is another German vessel coming to its aid. Note the black hull of a Nazi submarine in the foreground with three persons on its deck.

Leads Nazi Invasion

New Plane Reported Best at Front

A Grumman twin-engine skyrocket fighting plane, which, although still in the experimental stage, has proved superior to any other fighting ship in actual combat on the western front. The plane was developed with the aid of the United States navy. The skyrocket is so named because of its ability to outclimb any airplane built in the world today. It also carries more heavy gun power than any other plane and has an additional fuel capacity above normal military load to increase flying range so that it may act as convoy for bombers on long-range missions.

British Land in Norway Sink 2 More Nazi Transports

LONDON (CP)—The War Office and the Admiralty today announced British forces "now have landed at several points in Norway."

In addition, Great Britain stuck other hammer blows at German forces in Norway today, announcing the torpedoing of transport and supply ships and renewed attacking of Stavanger airport terminus for Germany's aerial transports.

BLASTED FIFTH TIME

Ignored German claims that seven British submarines had been sunk, the Admiralty announced that its undersea fleet had sunk two German transports and scored four hits on a transport convoy in the Skagerrak.

Another German transport was reported set on fire by bombs from planes of the fleet air arm while the Royal Air Force during the night blasted Stavanger for the fifth time, causing a fire and explosion attributed to a possible hit on a gasoline dump.

In the Admiralty and the Air Ministry, communications there was no hint of the landing place or places of the British in Norway, nor was there any word concerning the number of troops involved. However, belief was expressed in British circles that Stavanger and Narvik were logical points for Britain to start land action.

GASOLINE DUMP EXPLODES

British authorities said that one pilot of the coastal command flight, which was said to have returned "without damage," reported a sudden red glow at Stavanger apparently caused by a big explosion, perhaps of one of Germany's hastily-built gasoline dumps.

Germany's novel manoeuvre in transporting troops by planes is causing little concern, it was said in London.

Neutral military experts expressed the belief that the British intended to carry out systematic destruction of inland airdromes and to strafe water bases to prevent the landing of troops.

"At the same time," these sources said, "they feel that the Allied navies control the seas and can prevent what troops already are in Norway from obtaining heavy guns, mechanized equipment, ammunition and food."

TWO MORE TRANSPORTS SUNK

The Admiralty said that further reports from British submarines "indicate that two more German transports have been sunk and that besides this a convoy of enemy transports was attacked in the Skagerrak when four torpedoes found their mark."

Fifteen airplanes from the British fleet, the Admiralty added, made another attack on transports and aircraft in Bergen and "several hits were obtained."

"One transport was set alight, a small storeship was sunk and one large flying boat was machine-gunned and burst into flames," the Admiralty added.

HELP TO SWEDEN

The British promised Sweden help if she suffers the same fate as her Scandinavian neighbors, Norway and Denmark, which Germany invaded last Tuesday to "protect" their neutrality.

Fear was expressed in Britain that Germany, her supply lines harassed by the British navy, might try to strike through Sweden. Authoritative quarters said this would bring quick Allied assistance to the Swedes.

EYES ON HOLLAND

While the British Isles rang with cheers for the Royal Navy's exploits, Britain kept a watchful eye on tense lowland countries and the Balkans, against the possibility Germany's invasion of Denmark and Norway might foreshadow extension of the conflict to other neutrals.

British apprehension concerning the lowland nations was indicated by a warning sent British subjects in the Netherlands and Belgium to be ready to leave those countries.

A further report on naval warfare and developments in Scandinavia is expected tomorrow in the House of Commons from Prime Minister Chamberlain or Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty.

Rumania Halts Exports to Germany

BUCHAREST (AP)—A Rumanian decree tonight prohibited indefinitely all exports of wheat, petroleum, coal and wood, cutting off Germany's main source of supplies in southeastern Europe.

The government economic council under Prime Minister Tatarescu decided to void all wheat contracts until further notice because of a prospective crop failure.

The council also ordered all foreign deliveries of petroleum, coal and wood stopped until a adequate reserves were assured for the army and the railroads.

While the export ban is to be applied to all foreign buyers, Rumanians said Germany would be hit the hardest. They added the Germans had expected to obtain a major share of Rumania's wheat surplus, which is normally about 1,600,000 tons.

Protracted army mobilizations which have kept hundreds of thousands of peasants from the farms, coupled with a severe winter and spring floods, threaten to cut the wheat harvest below Rumania's own needs.

Earlier today strict control of Danube River traffic was enforced by Rumania following German threats to send gunboats down the river immediately to protect German shipping from alleged "English sabotage."

A Rumanian government spokesman said strong river patrols had been organized "to maintain peace and order on the Danube."

The spokesman said the control system had been worked out with other Danubian neutrals. This was presumed in Bucharest to mean Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Hungary, each undertaking closer policing of its stretch of the river.

Some sources regarded this development as an attempt to eliminate any possible pretext for Germany to send armed forces into these neutrals' territorial waters.

In earlier dispatches today, indicating Germany had suffered a setback in the Rumanian-German economic tug-of-war, it was reported the German trade negotiators had offered a compromise in return for Rumania's lifting of her ban of freight car and barge loadings, of immediate delivery of 100 Messerschmitt pursuit planes.

Meanwhile the general staff conferred with Premier Georges Tatarescu and the Defence Minister in a special meeting.

NAZI LOSSES SHAPING WAR

BERNE (CP-Havas)—The importance of the elimination of the German fleet as a combat factor was emphasized here today as neutral Switzerland estimated what effect it would have on subsequent war operations.

"The German losses are of fundamental strategic importance," said the National Zeitung. "The capacity of the German fleet is, so to speak, wiped out."

Events have considerably transformed the situation to the detriment of Germany, said the Basler Nachrichten, which called the German invasion of Norway a measure of Nazi desperation.

The newspaper predicted world indignation would result in increased material aid to the Allies, particularly from the United States.

GET READY TO GO

CALGARY (CP)—More than 2,000 officers and men in the non-permanent militia in Alberta will undergo summer training at Sarcee Camp. Staff officers of Military District 13 today announced details of training policy to prepare the units and men for immediate mobilization in preparation for the next Canadian division.

$50,000 MORE

TORONTO (CP)—Conferees of the United Church of Canada will be asked to contribute $1,526,000 this year—$50,000 more than last year—for support of the church's work in Canada and abroad, the annual meeting of the missionary and maintenance committee announced. Giving of money to the church through annuities, legacies and wills will be encouraged.

FIND BODY OF MISSING MAN

B.C. Police reported today the body of Kusti Haapanen, representative of the Finnish Relief Fund, lost several days ago, had been recovered from the waters of Cowichan Lake.

Italian Fleet Out

ROME (AP)—The Italian navy is believed in diplomatic circles to have begun its regular spring manoeuvres today in the Mediterranean.

Official circles are silent on the fleet's plans, however, explaining such movements are kept secret.

No one suggested the fleet is on any mission other than manoeuvres.

Authoritative Italians Sunday expressed the belief that all countries of Europe, including Italy, would be drawn into the war.

From one newspaper, the Messagero, came a warning to neutrals that they now know what road to follow, implying it was the example of Denmark in accepting Germany's "protection."

Nazi Plane Interned

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A three-motored German junker's warplane made a forced landing today at Mariestad, 90 miles from the Swedish west coast.

It was returning to Germany after dropping leaflets in Norway when it lost its way and exhausted its gasoline. It carried a crew of five. Swedish policy is to intern both the plane and fliers.

Three German fliers were interned yesterday when a Junkers plane made a forced landing near Grebbstad on the Swedish west coast and another, which flew over the Uddevall military barracks, was shot down in flames by Swedish anti-aircraft fire.

Swedes Prepare

LONDON (CP)—A Reuters' News Agency dispatch from Stockholm tonight said a "state of preparedness" against aerial attack was proclaimed today in parts of southern and western Sweden, effective at noon (3 a.m. P.S.T.), tomorrow.

Minister Takes Post

DUBLIN (AP)—David Grey, new United States Minister to Eire presented his credentials to President Douglas Hyde today at Dublin Castle.

Hit By Golf Ball

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Blanche Evison suffered head injuries requiring hospital treatment here at the weekend when she was struck on the forehead by a golf ball.

DUTCH, BELGIANS WATCH BORDERS

THE HAGUE (AP)—The low countries, determined not to be taken unawares by any threatening moves of Europe's warring powers, maintained an alert watch on their frontiers today, but official circles were outwardly calm and there were few signs of public anxiety over the future.

Special defence measures were taken in both the Netherlands and Belgium but these were closely guarded as military secrets. Theatres and cafes in all the large cities did a normal peacetime business.

Government circles expressed indignation over foreign reports that there was imminent possibility of action by either the Germans or the Allies which might spread the war to the lowlands. The rumors were termed ill-considered and malicious.

In Belgium, however, an organization of first Great War veterans suggested creation of a large auxiliary police force recruited from their ranks and designation of concentration camps sites where undesirable foreigners might be detained.

"It is logical to conceive of a surprise attack executed on our ministries, our barracks, our public stations, our banks and public institutions," the veterans said.

Corps Quickly Filled

LONDON (CP)—Men between the ages of 30 and 50 stood in long lines today before the Mansion House recruiting office, to enroll in the recently-formed auxiliary military pioneer corps, which will accept 100,000 men. The organization is designed to free as many young soldiers as possible for active service by furnishing older men for work behind the lines.

Nazis Burn Papers

NEW YORK (AP)—William C. Kerker, National Broadcasting Company correspondent in Berlin, broadcast at 5 a.m. P.S.T., today that officials in the German embassy in Amsterdam had started to burn all political documents.

British Minister Home From Denmark

BRUSSELS (CP)—Howard Smith, British Minister to Denmark, A. A. Bonnefoy-Sibour, the French minister, Dr. Jan Staszewski, the Polish minister, and members of their respective staffs, passed through here en route home from Denmark.

The special train carrying the diplomats and their staffs crossed the Danish-Netherlands border early yesterday, after they had been released by the Germans.

A French military attaché carried his arm in a sling. It was hinted he had been hit by a machine-gun bullet.

A woman secretary of the British embassy reported she had been handcuffed by the Germans when she resisted arrest before her identity was established.

Members of the party, estimated that some 70,000 German troops passed through Copenhagen, during the last two days. They said Danes were wondering whether the Nazi troops were bound for Sweden or Norway.

Belgium Gets Nazi Coal

BRUSSELS (AP)—Belgian and German trade negotiators today reached a provisional agreement for the next three months under which the Germans are to send Belgium 60 per cent of the coal they sent before the war.

It was stated some minor points remained to be discussed and the agreement must be submitted to both governments.

New Span Over Koksilah River

Construction of a new bridge on the Island Highway over the Koksilah River has been commenced by the Public Works Department, it was announced today.

The new span, a small Howe truss, will replace the existing bridge and will straighten out the road at the point where the new cut-offs join.

The department plans within the next two or three weeks to lay the preliminary oil coat on the new King George Highway on the mainland, Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, said. Later the permanent surfacing will be laid by contract.

Enter Norway's Capital

A handful of Norwegian citizens watch helmeted German soldiers parade through the streets of Oslo, Norwegian capital. This picture, blurred in transmission, was radioed from Berlin to New York. Comparatively few Norwegians remained to see the Nazi forces enter, thousands of them having fled the city on their approach. The government removed to the north so Oslo would escape bombing. The British navy is said to have bottled German ships in its harbor and a major battle seems imminent, observers believe.

British Fliers Raid Nazi Base At Stavanger

LONDON (CP)—An official announcement today told of continuing operations against the Germans at Stavanger, strategic port on the southwestern coast of Norway. It said:

"Further harassing attacks were carried out at Stavanger air-drome last night by reconnaissance aircraft of the R.A.F. coastal command."

"In spite of darkness and heavy rain, incendiary and heavy explosive bombs were dropped on the air-drome and ground defences were attacked with machine gun fire. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered, but our aircraft suffered no damage."

An unofficial amplification of the communiqué said the crew of one of the British planes had seen a sudden red glow—apparently indicative of an explosion—after the raiders had swooped over the airfield.

Another pilot, describing the greeting which the raiders received from the ground defences, said:

"The air was simply alive with blue and orange searchlights, rockets and shells, which burst into groups of four bluish white stars."

"We sailed through it and dropped our bombs right on the target. My rear gunner sprayed bullets down the beam of one blue pencil of searchlight which picked us up and it went out at once."

Last night's raid on Stavanger was the fifth officially reported in the series of air encounters which began last Monday.

Reporting an attack staged Sunday morning on the Stavanger air-drome, the Air Ministry announced that considerable damage was done to hangars, the runway and grounded enemy planes. Sea planes moored at Halsford, near Stavanger, also were machine gunned.

With their landing, only six days after Germany invaded Scandinavia, the predicament of Nazi forces in Norway became increasingly grave.

It was believed the Royal Navy had reduced the German fleet to a mere shadow of its pre-battle strength and that the Reich could be considered no longer to have an effective sea force.

The Allied plan of action in Norway became apparent with today's troop landings. It was to smash the German navy; sink its transports, and, having reduced the danger of sea travel for British troops, to send a force to help the hard-pressed Norwegians who have been trying to mobilize poorly-armed amateurs and fight back against well-equipped and well-trained soldiers.

TURNING POINT

The British announcement did not say when Allied troops landed, but they were reported three days ago to be in the vicinity of Narvik, and today a story was current in Stockholm that they had defeated Germans there and sent them fleeing to the mountains.

Only Saturday the Royal Navy stormed Narvik harbor, sank seven Nazi destroyers and practically wrecked any chance the Germans might have had to defend the port through which they obtained Swedish iron ore for their war industries.

The victory at Narvik and the landing of troops were believed likely to prove the turning point in the struggle to oust the Germans from Norway.

MINE FIELD

A giant minefield lies from Keil to Lithuania, along the German Baltic shore, imperilling the Reich's shipping if it seeks to carry reinforcements or supplies to the men in Norway.

The Germans were reported seeking to reinforce the troops by airplane, but their transport aircraft can carry only 30 men apiece and British authorities were unimpressed by their efforts.

Norwegians were reported establishing a continuous front in a crescent north of Oslo, the capital, which remained in German hands. Most of the fighting between Norwegian and German troops appeared centred in that section.

DEATH PURSUES

Somewhere in Norway King Haakon and his entourage appeared so far to have escaped the German air force, which apparently has been instructed to kill the aging monarch if possible. He and his retinue had been pursued so relentlessly the last few days that they declined to disclose their whereabouts.

Nevertheless, the King, his courage apparently unshaken by being subjected to machine-gun fire and bombs, broadcast to his little nation last night and urged his people to resist to the utmost.

It must have cheered His Majesty to hear on Saturday the voice of King George, speaking from London and promising that the huge resources of the British Empire will be used to rescue Norway from the German menace.

Quits

LONDON (CP)—A Reuter's news agency dispatch tonight said the German-controlled radio at Oslo had announced that the puppet government of Major Vidkun Quisling (above) had resigned.

The administration of the German-occupied regions of Norway was taken over by an administrative committee headed by Christensen, chief of the Oslo municipal council, the announcement said.

The Quisling "government" claimed it was taking over shortly after the German invaders entered Oslo.

The War Today

By GUY RHODES
ALLIED STRATEGY

Britain's promised relief of beleaguered Norway came closer to accomplishment today when the Admiralty and the War Office announced jointly that British troops had landed at several points in the little kingdom.

With their landing, only six days after Germany invaded Scandinavia, the predicament of Nazi forces in Norway became increasingly grave.

It was believed the Royal Navy had reduced the German fleet to a mere shadow of its pre-battle strength and that the Reich could be considered no longer to have an effective sea force.

Americas Mean To Live in Peace, Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Terming wars abroad "more horrible and destructive than ever," President Roosevelt said today the 21 American republics could keep open the way to eventual peace "only if we are prepared to meet force with force if challenge is ever made."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke before the governing board of the Pan-American Union on the observance of the organization's 50th anniversary, and proclaimed a determination of the western hemisphere "to live in peace and make that peace secure."

In words broadcast throughout the United States and Canada and transmitted abroad by short wave, the President designed no belligerent by name when he used these words apparently directed at recent European developments.

"We of this hemisphere have no need to seek a new international order; we already have found it." This was not won by hysterical outcries, or violent movements of troops.

"We did not stamp out nations, capture governments, or uproot innocent people from the homes they had built. We did not invent absurd doctrines of race supremacy, or claim dictatorship through universal revolution."

The inter-American order was not built by hatred and terror. It has been paved by the endless and effective work of men of good will."

PEACE DREAM

Mr. Roosevelt said "universal and stable peace remains a dream," and told his listeners to "have no illusions" at a time when "old dreams of universal empire are again rampant."

"In my conception," the President said, "the whole world now is struggling to find the basis of its life in coming centuries."

"It was for this very reason that we have adopted procedures that enable us to meet any eventualities."

"I pray to God that we shall not have to do more than that; but should it be necessary, I am convinced that we should be wholly successful. The inner strength of a group of free people is irresistible when they are prepared to act."

In asserting that peace among the American nations was secure because of instruments they had created, Mr. Roosevelt said these instruments embodied in a great measure "the principles upon which, I believe, enduring peace must be based throughout the world."

"Peace reigns today in the western hemisphere," he said, "because our nations have liberated themselves from fear."

"Peace reigns among us today because we have agreed, as neighbors should, to mind our own business."

"Peace reigns among us today because we have resolved to settle any dispute that should arise among us by friendly negotiations."

Albertan Dismissed

EDMONTON (CP)—G. M. Mathieson, accountant and supervisor of improvement districts in the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs, told reporters today he had been dismissed Saturday. He added no reasons had been given. Mr. Mathieson joined the department as a clerk in 1932.

He appeared so far to have escaped the German air force, which apparently has been instructed to kill the aging monarch if possible. He and his retinue had been pursued so relentlessly the last few days that they declined to disclose their whereabouts.

Nevertheless, the King, his courage apparently unshaken by being subjected to machine-gun fire and bombs, broadcast to his little nation last night and urged his people to resist to the utmost.

Hitler Planned Fight to Limit

GENEVA (AP)—Adolf Hitler on August 11 declared that if he must make war he would "rather do it today than tomorrow." Karl Burckhardt, League of Nations High Commissioner for Danzig, said in a report to the League of Nations Council published today:

The Swiss League official made public the details of his interview with Hitler for the first time in his lengthy report on Danzig, which Germany absorbed last fall after the outbreak of war.

Burckhardt declared that Hitler said "he would fight without mercy up to the extreme limit," and that he "was sure he could rely on Italian and Japanese alliances."

"He asserted that, with 60 divisions and the western fortifications, he could hold the western front while he threw the rest of his army on the Poles, who would be beaten in three weeks."

"He said the general tendency was to try to impress him with the rearmament figures of the foreign war forces, but added, 'I am a specialist on rearmament, not the others.'"

"Their air forces may be summed up as follows: England has 135,000 men in her air force and France has 75,000. But I have 600,000 in time of peace and 1,000,000 in time of war."

"My air raid protection is the best in the world, as it was proved to be in Spain," he said.

"He also spoke of Russia," Burckhardt wrote, "and said that Germany knew them better than the others and that hundreds of his officers had served in the Russian army and knew the latter had no offensive power."

Burckhardt said he went to see Hitler on the question of arbitrating the Danzig problem. Instead, he listened for 2½ hours.

7 Areas Hit By Alberta Floods

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP)—Rising flood waters of the Red Deer River today forced residents to evacuate 100 riverside homes at nearby Newcastle and to abandon several houses at North Drumheller.

Residents of those two communities joined refugees from East Couler, Carbon, Wayne and Rosedale in Drumheller today after the spring-swollen river waters had risen six feet in two hours at Newcastle this morning.

Relief officials said conditions in Drumheller district were becoming acute. There were refugees in almost every home.

Boats were used for rescue work in Newcastle today as many families were forced to escape from their homes through windows.

Similar troubles threatened East Drumheller where residents already were forced to wade through water to enter their homes.

The road from Drumheller to Macleod has been cut off, and road conditions in the district have isolated the city.

At the Calgary office of the Canadian National Railways it was stated many minor washouts had occurred, but that traffic could get through. A train left there for Drumheller at noon today, and the train from Drumheller to Calgary, tomorrow morning, is expected to run on schedule.

At Red Deer, the C.N.R. bridge was washed out for the fourth successive year. Gleichen business section was flooded on Saturday. Several families have been forced to leave their homes at Baintree. One home was evacuated at Red Deer.

SAYS AUTARCHY WON'T WORK HERE

MONTREAL (CP)—The system of autarchy was described here today by J. H. R. Cromwell, United States Minister to Canada, as a "system of mobilizing war materials, under the camouflage of social security, in times of peace."

Addressing the Canadian Club, Mr. Cromwell said that in a large part of the world "this system already has caused a vast dislocation of economic effort."

Mr. Cromwell believed the continuance of the "great experiment in democracy in North America must be endangered by any irresponsible step on either side which unduly circumscribes a free flow of trade, or which tends to place industry in a straightjacket, and which involves in its consequences more and more industrial control with correspondingly less opportunity for initiative, for freedom and for enterprise."

Discussing the "apparent" success of state regimentation, Mr. Cromwell said there were some—perhaps many—who believe it desirable to erect such a system within the framework of the democratic institutions of North America.

"They believe the recurrent depression... can be eliminated by a rigid government control both of production and of distribution. They endeavor to attribute the failure of the several experiments we have attempted along this line to the incomplete control necessitated by our system of government."

Their very act of explaining away this failure answered the question of whether such a system would work in North America—and in the negative.

"It does not—indeed, it will not work with us," Mr. Cromwell said.

Major W. R. Mitchell Of Nanaimo Passes

NANAIMO (CP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for the late Major W. R. Mitchell. Veteran of the first Great War and former president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, he died in a hospital here yesterday after a long illness.

Born in Oregon 50 years ago, Mr. Mitchell came to Vancouver as a boy and was transferred to the Nanaimo branch of the Royal Bank of Canada in 1910. He had lived in this city ever since, with the exception of the time he served with Canadian forces in the Great War. His partner, John Rudd, in the financial firm of Rudd, Mitchell Company, died a year ago.

Mrs. A. P. Proctor of Vancouver is a sister.

PREMIER KING RESTS IN U.S.

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Prime Minister W. E. Mackenzie King of Canada, here for a rest of several days, said he was delighted to hear of the British victory at Narvik, but declined further comment on the war.

L. C. Tubbs, representing the United States Department of State, and Mr. Mackenzie King's secretary, arrived here with him yesterday.

The Prime Minister admitting he was "tired," said he had come strictly for relaxation. Walks along the beach, swims in the salt water pool of his hotel and possibly some golf would constitute his principle activities, he said.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, Canadian Minister of Mines and Resources; Senator N. P. Lambert and C. W. Jackson, chief assistant executive officer of the Department of Mines and Resources, arrived at Old Point Comfort, Va., Saturday for a week or 10 days' vacation and sightseeing.

HELSINKI (AP)—Russia was reported in dispatches from Moscow today to have concentrated Red army troops in the north and mobilized the Soviet Arctic fleet against any eventuality resulting from the conflict in Scandinavia.

German Blackout Spreads North

Hitler grabs again, with Denmark "absorbed" into the fast-growing German Reich. Lucky seven for the Nazis have been the conquests shown on map, but in the attempted eighth, Norway, they are meeting unprecedented resistance.

Urge Norway to Aid

LONDON—Following up Saturday's message to Norwegians that "Allied help is coming, and coming quickly," and King George's assurances to King Haakon of Norway of Allied aid, the British and Norwegian Trade Union leaders yesterday broadcast in Norwegian and English a message which said:

"British soldiers are coming to assist the Norwegian people in their resistance to the invaders. Wherever British soldiers are, assist them by every means in your power. If you know where there are Germans, tell the British. If the British require food, feed them. If they require shelter, give it to them."

Official circles declined to elaborate on the message, but it was taken for granted that it mirrored the Allied policy of starting land operations in Norway as soon as the navy cut communications between the Reich and Scandinavia.

Admiral Scheer Hit By Torpedo Of British Sub

LONDON (CP)—An Admiralty communique issued last night said:

"Some indication of the highly successful work in extremely hazardous conditions of our submarines during the past week can now be given."

"The German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer (10,000 tons, six 11-inch guns) was successfully attacked by His Majesty's submarine Spearfish in the early hours of Thursday morning last. It is probable the Admiral Scheer was hit by more than one torpedo."

"H.M.S. Trout torpedoed and sank a German cruiser, believed to be the Karlsruhe, on Tuesday last. The sinking of this cruiser has already been announced and admitted by the Germans."

"Other successes included the sinking of the following German transports and supply ships: Tanker Poseidonia, 3,911 tons; August Eltonhardt, 2,593 tons; Kreta, 2,359 tons; Rio de Janeiro, 5,261 tons; Ionia, 3,102 tons; Andares, 2,593 tons; Moorsund, 321 tons."

"Also an unknown German ship of about 4,000 tons. Also on April 10 two more unknown German ships were sunk, and four other German ships in the convoy were hit by torpedoes, the result being unknown."

"In addition, the Alstera of 8,514 tons, has been captured, and three trawlers, Friesland, Nordland and Blankenberg, have been brought into a British port."

"All these ships are in addition to six supply ships and the Rauenfels, which were sunk off Narvik by the second destroyer flotilla on Wednesday last, as was announced in the House of Commons by the Prime Minister."

SCUTTLED

"The following scuttlings have taken place:

"The tanker Skagerrak, 6,044 tons, on being sighted by a British cruiser."

"The German ship Maine, of 7,624 tons, on being sighted by the Norwegian destroyer Draug, who picked up some 60 of the crew and conveyed them to a British port."

"The Draug now forms part of the Allied naval forces."

"It has been reported that the German tanker Kattegat has been sunk by the Norwegians in the Skagerrak."

"It will be noticed that no mention is made of the loss of any U-boats. It would be incorrect to assume that positive results have not been attained."

The Allied attacks at the weekend, which included bombing of German shipping clustered off shore, were seen as part of a drive to soften German opposition prior to a possible big Allied push aimed at knocking the Nazi invader out of the Scandinavian country.

MACDONALD URGED FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

VANCOUVER—The Vancouver Sun says editorially: "Now that the election is over the King government turns to many items of business long in suspense. Among them is the appointment of a new Chief Justice of the British Columbia Appeal Court to replace Chief Justice Martin, who retires, after a distinguished career, early next month."

"We may expect to see Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald elevated to this post in the regular line of seniority, and it would be an appointment universally applauded. The only real question facing the government is the appointment of another associate justice."

"The government, busy as it is, can well afford to give this appointment some thought. Nothing can be more important than the ability of our courts, especially in times like these, and nothing more important than the public's respect for them. We wish we could say that all governments in the past made judicial appointments solely with these facts in mind, but in practice judges have been appointed much too often purely on the basis of past service to one political party or the other, until at times our courts have lacked the public esteem which they should have."

"The highest court in British Columbia should not be weakened, but strengthened. It can only be strengthened by the selection of a man without regard to party and without regard to his city of residence. The man's ability and knowledge of the law should be the only question considered."

"Now that the government is back in office with a national and very largely a nonpartisan mandate, it should be especially anxious to avoid politics in such an appointment. We put it to Mr. King that he has a duty here to the whole people of British Columbia far above any duty to his partisans."

Greenland Status Concerns Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King was holidaying on the Virginia coast today while observers of the political scene in Ottawa speculated on the significance that may be attached to his proposed calls at the White House and State Department in Washington next week.

With Canada an active participant in a war of increasing gravity and scope, and the United States the most powerful neutral, much interest attaches to the forthcoming meeting between heads of the two governments.

While Mr. King was very indefinite about his plans when he left Ottawa so far as they concern meetings with President Roosevelt or others in the United States government, he was most definite in his declaration that his visit should not be interpreted as a move to enlist United States sympathy in the Allied cause.

It is believed here, however, that any meeting between Mr. King and President Roosevelt, no matter how informal or un-planned, cannot fail to result in conversations of the utmost significance.

One matter believed likely to await discussions between the Prime Minister, Lord Lothian, British ambassador in Washington, and President Roosevelt is the guardianship of Greenland.

Greenland is a Danish-owned colony in the western hemisphere close to the North American continent. Now that Denmark is in the hands of Germany the fate of Greenland hangs in doubt, but it has been made clear by British authorities that it will not be permitted to be used by the Germans.

Responsibility for the people of Greenland, who have depended on Denmark, and for the safeguarding of the island from German occupation, may be left to Canada, but it is believed this would not be decided on without discussion with the United States government.

It is believed certain Mr. King will discuss the St. Lawrence Great Lakes seaway and power project if he meets President Roosevelt and Cordell Hull, Secretary of State.

In some quarters it is believed the two governments will seek to complete at once an agreement on this huge undertaking and submit it to the United States Congress as soon as possible.

The ground also may be prepared during Mr. King's visit for negotiations of a revised and extended trade agreement with the United States. The present agreement is set to expire at the end of 1941.

ARTILLERY DUELS ON WEST FRONT

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Today's communique from the French high command reported that "at the end of the day yesterday and during the night there was activity of our reconnaissance units and artillery action at various points on the front."

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communique today said:

"In the west there was no important event to report. Our air force carried out surveillance flights over the frontier. A German pursuit plane shot down in the Emmerich region a British plane of the Bristol-Blenheim type. Another British plane was attacked by a German anti-aircraft battery north of Offenburg, and crashed."

British Mine German Baltic

LONDON (CP)—A new factor in the northern warfare today was an unprecedented minefield extending far into the Baltic—a 500-mile sea death trap in the Nazi Reich's backyard. The British navy laid it after shattering German naval forces at Narvik Saturday, sinking seven destroyers.

(A British Broadcasting Corporation broadcast picked up in New York today said the minefield already was claiming victims when Swedish sailors saw German transports sunk by the mines off Lysekil, Sweden.)

An Admiralty announcement said the great minefield extended from Kiel Bay to Lithuania's territorial waters, blocking German access to Sweden's iron ore through the Lulea port route.

Although destruction of seven German destroyers at Narvik was regarded as the most spectacular feat of the Royal Navy's week-end, laying of the minefield in the Baltic was described by some military observers as the greatest strategic accomplishment of the war thus far. That action, they said, deprived the German navy of control of the Baltic.

How it was done was a strict naval secret, but that it meant hazardous work no one doubted.

18 Hardy Men Lost

LONDON (CP)—An Admiralty communique states two officers and 14 men were killed when the crew of the destroyer Hardy landed from their disabled and beached war vessel in the first battle of Narvik last Wednesday. Two other men were missing and believed drowned, and six men were wounded.

Nazi Planes Based East of Trondheim

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The newspaper Lens Tidningen at Ostersund, in central Sweden, opposite the important Norwegian port of Trondheim, said that a telephoned dispatch from Stjordal, 15 miles east of Trondheim, disclosed that 26 German bombing planes were stationed there. In addition, 22 more were reported on their way there.

This newspaper also brought to light a story which may solve the mystery of how the Germans last Tuesday were able to pass so easily by the fortress Agdenes, which guards the outer entrance to the narrow Trondheim Fjord. This report was that the fortress had stopped the German fleet and was holding them off until it received an order from Major Vikdun Quisling, head of the Norwegian Nazi Party, ostensibly issued in the name of the Norwegian government, and ordering the defenders not to resist.

Later, according to this story, contradictory orders came from the regular government of Premier Johan Nygaardsvold, but it then was too late.

All in a Week

WHAT ADOLF HITLER EXPECTED BRITAIN and France to do in reply to the Nazi invasion of Norway may be a subject of interesting speculation for the historian at some later day. Of special concern at the moment, however, is a study of what are impressive facts. In brief these include: The absolute destruction of at least one-third of the German navy; the elimination of the rest of its fighting effectiveness, either because of damage or by the threat of a minefield which stretches from the Arctic Ocean to the eastern extremity of the Baltic Sea; the inability of the Reich to augment or expand its Norwegian campaign by further supplies of men and materials; the landing today of British troops at various points in Norway; the severance of water communication with Scandinavia through the strewing of mines to which we have referred, which, by way of good measure, eliminates all possibility of Swedish ore reaching the Reich; the continued assault by sea and air of Allied war craft and bombing planes against virtually every inch of Norwegian territory which German troops have occupied in these most momentous seven days of the western war.

While all the foregoing is known to the world at large, some of it even grudgingly admitted by the Nazi hierarchy, Great Britain and France have now assumed the offensive in every aspect of the conflict. They permitted Hitler to choose the manner of enlivening the general war condition on land—the condition, for example, which still marks the battlefield extending from Luxemburg in the north to Switzerland in the south. It is his privilege now to try to hold such Norwegian territory as he feels it desirable to hold. The fact that his isolated troops may have a very difficult job to extricate themselves from the cage in which the Allies have shut them is a matter about which neither the British nor the French government is worrying. The Goering-Göbbels-Ley triumvirate advertised less than a fortnight ago that victory was at hand, that the Fuehrer was ready to throw all his resources into a grand and glorious push in the west; indeed, Labor Minister Ley ridiculed the idea of any necessity to discuss the subject of victory; it was at hand, waiting for the taking.

But it should not be assumed that these comforting victories of the Allies in the Scandinavian scene will be extended without considerable cost. Last week's adventure is the first real rebuff which Hitler has suffered. It may be that his peculiar mentality is sufficiently plastic to permit of its readjustment to the new set of circumstances, that it will be comparatively easy to turn from what, after all, must be recognized by those Nazi stalwarts who know the truth as a complete change from the procedure which hitherto has been attended with such comparatively simple triumph. On the other hand, it is probable the Fuehrer has in store more than one diabolical plot with which to try to offset this Scandinavian venture, for not even the highly-imaginative Goebbels propaganda will succeed indefinitely in keeping all the important details of last week's record from the German populace. On this account—and we know the German High Command has informed the Norwegian people that resistance will mean death—another diversion may be in the making. New conquests are essential for advancing the popularity of the Nazi philosophy—now in brutal action.

It would be foolish to speculate on the next move. It may be several days before the curtain is rung down on this new phase of the conflict. The eyes of the world naturally are turned to the Low Countries—Holland and Belgium. Farther away is southeastern Europe and the delicate position of Rumania, Hungary and Yugoslavia. No element of surprise can be utilized against any of these countries. Dutch and Belgian military machines have been in readiness for instant action for months. Such is the case with the Balkan countries. And no states in history have undergone such an intensive application of diplomatic technique as that to which these have been subjected ever since the outbreak of hostilities. Italy, of course, remains the large and ominous question mark. He would be more brave than wise, too, who hazarded even the wildest guess as to Russia's role in the drama now unfolding.

A Total Loss

TWO WEEKS AGO IN THE CITY OF Cincinnati, Ohio, Edwin Forest Wilder finished a life of 92 years out of which only two were "frittered away" in the unspectacular and often onerous job of working. His total accomplishment was nothing; his sole mission was to enjoy life in liberal doses—not exactly a model for school teachers to hold up for emulation.

Wilder evidently made no bones about his start. He discovered it was not necessary for him to work—and he deliberately refused to try to justify his reason for existence, and he implied that the two years he did work were entered on the tablet of his memory as a total loss. The other 90 years he lived as a man of leisure, playing the market and the horses. He was a law graduate, but he never wasted his time in practice. Tomorrow, no one will remember that he ever existed. He left no mark on the world. But he enjoyed every year of his term on earth —with the possible exception of the two that he worked.

This narrative may suggest an ideal way to get through the span between birth and death; but, of course, there had to be a catch in it: Wilder could not have loafed for 90 years of his 92 had he not inherited a fortune sufficient to satisfy all his desires. But even with this natural advantage, it must have taken a good deal of a peculiar type of determination to resist an equally natural desire to accomplish at least something while there was yet time.

Happily for the world, and particularly this part of it, there are few of the Wilder type. The average Canadian youth, by inclination and training, still clings to the adage that "there is always room at the top." The crowd at "the bottom" is seldom considered too thick to get through. Where there's a will there's a way.

Tell 'Em, Mr. Dolan

MR. D. LEO DOLAN, DIRECTOR OF Canada's travel bureau, made this remark in Vancouver the other day:

"If British Columbia, with its advantages, had the population on the south that Ontario has, this province wouldn't be able to accommodate the tourists."

Few will disagree with the foregoing statement. And Mr. Dolan knows the value of the right type of advertising. He reminds us that Canada is spending considerably more money on publicity this year than she did last year. This is all to the good and necessary. If Canada were to spend ten times as much money in 1940 as she did in 1939, it would return dividends that would pay back the initial capital outlay one hundredfold.

While Mr. Dolan is in this city, incidentally, and while he has Ontario in mind in the ordinary discharge of his national job, we suggest that he make a note to drop into the office of the Telegram of Toronto when he next visits that extremely good and busy city. He can refer its news director to an item which appeared on page 13 of its issue of April 3, and show him four lines which appeared at the end of the story relating the tragedy of the two trappers who lost their lives in the inhospitable country back of the thriving mining area of Zeballos. He will find this illuminating comment:

"Vancouver Island, off the coast of British Columbia, is heavily wooded; and except for occasional lumber camps and fishing ports, is not settled."

Of course, if the paragraph was not "lifted" from a history book published while Queen Victoria was still a young woman, Mr. Dolan will be able to suggest to the Telegram how it can, and should, explain its description of this "backward community"—which so enchanted King George and Queen Elizabeth nearly a year ago.

Taking No Chances

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON indicate that Mr. Cordell Hull will continue "moral pressure" against any arms shipments to Soviet Russia, ostensibly because Russia was guilty of aggression against Finland and Poland, actually because the planes or other war materials might find their way to another "aggressor"—Nazi Germany. The United States government appears to be following its "short-of-war" policy which Mr. Roosevelt announced even before Hitler moved into Poland. There may be outcries from the isolationists for this policy more or less means taking sides, but the popular feeling in the republic is so obviously anti-Soviet since the Finnish invasion that criticism may not worry either the President or Mr. Hull very much. And even if it did, the gentlemen concerned have been known to be rather stubborn, when the occasion seemed to warrant.

The theory that Russia can supply Germany with large quantities of materials has received another blow with the revelation that Russia, normally an exporter of sugar, has found it necessary to buy 15,000 tons of this commodity in Peru. The freight rate from Peru to Vladivostok is $38 a ton. Only an extreme shortage would justify such a transaction.

COMPULSORY VOTING?

From Ottawa Journal

Periodically there arises a demand that voting in Canada be made compulsory—that persons neglecting to exercise their franchise, without valid reason, be subjected to legal penalties.

Experience goes to show, however, that when the issues are clear, and the interest of the public actively engaged, little fault is to be found with the turnout of voters. For example, take the case of Winnipeg. For the recent general election 158,423 names were enrolled on the civilian voting lists, and 138,324 votes were cast, or 87.3 per cent. The 20,000 who did not vote included the sick, the "shut-ins," all those unavoidably absent from their homes on that day, and the percentage who could have voted and didn't must have been small. At the 1935 election 75 per cent of the Winnipeg vote was cast, and in 1930 only 55 per cent.

It can be argued that failure to vote is in itself often an expression of opinion in the matter of policies and candidates offered for the voter's choice, and that an uninformed and uninterested ballot cast through compulsion would have no real significance. But it can be argued more effectively, we think, that the people will exercise their right in satisfactory numbers when they think there is something vital at stake, and that the voluntary system is more in keeping with the democratic system.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SAD FLIGHT

MY FRIENDS IN THE EAST are very kind and very sorry for me. They say it is sad that a man hardly past middle life and still active should be lost, isolated and imprisoned out in the wilds of Saanich when he could be at the centre of things. At New York not long ago they put me on the train with tears in their eyes, at Washington they said I was going to miss all the excitement of Congress and the Presidential election, at Ottawa they bade me farewell as if I were starting out for a leper island in the South Seas.

No company out there in Saanich, no companionship—just loneliness and silence, as if I were Robinson Crusoe. No company, no friends, they said. Well, there are no crowds streaming, pale-faced and haggard, into the bowels of the earth to pack themselves into subways at 5 p.m., no sea of tired faces swirling across Times Square at midnight, no drinking parties in a smoky two-room apartment talking all night about the coming revolution, no Saturday night gatherings, as in Ottawa, to read Shakespeare aloud.

FRIENDS

NO, BUT THERE ARE friends on all sides out here if you have the eye to recognize them. Old friends, planted with your own hands long ago, surging up through the earth on all sides and fairly shouting their hello; friends you can count on every year; gay female friends like the purple aubretia, modest friends like the white arabis and shy dog-tooth violets, stolid, homely friends like the fat rhubarb, that never fails. And if they are a little quiet and subdued, if you want more active companionship, the goldfish in the lily ponds are out of the winter's mud and romping in the sun and they will eat worms out of your hands, and old Hannibal, the turtle, a friend of 15 years' standing, blinks from a sunny rock, and the new friend, a Mexican bullfrog who just lost his pollywog tail, leaps shyly into the water when he hears you approach. He will learn to trust you before summer is over.

MUSIC

IN NEW YORK they dragged me, unwillingly, to a symphony. Alas, they said, you have no music at home. No music, eh? Listen to the bubbling, liquid song of the meadowlark hurled across the fields these mornings, and the overtones of the wind rustling through new leaves. Or get down on your knees close to a swarm of aubretia blossoms and listen to the bass notes of a bee at work as he shoves with all the might of his hind legs, then pauses to dust the pollen from his face with his front feet. And far off a grouse makes drum notes, and the trumpets of the daffodils are still raised high and the English bluebells are ringing, ever so faintly.

POLITICS

YOU'LL MISS POLITICS, they said in Ottawa and in Washington. You'll miss the clash of mind against mind, the eloquence, the passion. Why, here at night the parliament of frogs in Mrs. Noggins' swamp on the other side of the hill can be heard in full-dress debate, booming out for miles around. And to tell the truth I make as much sense of their argument as of any debate in Washington or Ottawa.

Or if you want more spirited wrangling, listen to the clamor of the crows, the long argument in the oak tree, the sharp retort, the subtle sarcasm, the loud exaltation of an entrenched majority. If that is not vigorous enough, if it seems to lack something of the passion of Ottawa and Washington, observe the seagulls in convention assembled behind George Putbury's plough, where the worms are turned up. There is the screech of the embattled minority, the scream of the downtrodden opposition, the quarrel over spoils, the clamorous complaint, the shriek of moral indignation when some other bird gets the worm.

PROGRESS

AH, YES, THEY SAID, but here in the big cities there is progress, activity, construction. Well, no skyscrapers are going up here, no steel skeletons against the sky (which will remain largely unoccupied and bankrupt the builders), no sound of riveting and dust of brick walls torn apart, but construction proceeds on all sides. Note that robin there with an old frayed string in his mouth, eyeing you suspiciously before he flies off to that fir tree. Why, it is a building boom, nothing less, on a favored subdivision where water, sunlight, cherries, strawberries and apples are all supplied free in season.

GATE CRASHERS

From B.C. Financial News

Speaking of affairs at the Hotel Vancouver, there is the story of the two business men who had recently joined the Canadian Club and were on their way to attend a luncheon.

Outside the salon a pleasant group of men engaged in the convivial chatter that precedes a luncheon and then everyone moved in and found seats at tables beautifully decorated with cut flowers.

It passed through the minds of the diners that this Canadian Club certainly did itself proud at the table, and the thought solidified into confirmed opinion when the waiters came around with cocktails and followed it up with a still more potent liquor. This downed, the pair agreed that they had become members of no mean club.

Then the inevitable chairman arose to speak and a dawning light broke upon the gentlemen. They were attending a luncheon given to honor the presence in Vancouver of the president of a very large Canadian institution.

They are still chuckling about their unwitting venture into gate crashing.

IN FOREIGN PARTS

PORTLAND, ORE.

IF THERE IS ONE PEST which annoys me more than other pests it is the traveler who visits a new country, takes one look around, and then proceeds to write about that place and its people as an authority. This report does not pretend to be anything more than the sketchy record of a peep.

But the net result of that peep is that the outlook for the Union plan in this Pacific Northwest section of the United States is good.

I met the famous young author, Clarence K. Streit, by invitation in Seattle. We had been corresponding ever since his book appeared, just one year ago. He knew that I had spoken everywhere in Canada about his book. We had missed connections in Ottawa. I was anxious to see what kind of a person was this whose book to me seems destined to become as important as "Capitalism," by Karl Marx, "The Wealth of Nations," by Adam Smith, or the writings of Rousseau before the French Revolution. He was anxious to find out exactly how Canadian audiences, in the different cities, responded to the proposal for immediate federation of the 10 leading world democracies.

He arrived in Seattle by plane, accompanied by his smart young secretary, Miss Williams. He was busy with the federal union or gazette most of the day, but we had a long talk before dinner and a longer after his first speech. The net upshot was that he asked me to travel with him a few days, listen to his public speeches, hear his private conversations with influential supporters, and do a bit of talking myself, public and private.

Which we did.

Mr. Streit himself still looks more like what he was before 1914—a surveyor—than what he has been since 1921, a high-class international journalist. He is a six-foot Nordic type, with a fine-shaped head, a frank, much-freckled face, and steadfast blue eyes, with just enough of the sheen of the fanatic in those eyes.

Mr. Lincoln is shot at the Theatre, and his Son is fatally wounded while making to his Rescue.

Mr. Seward is Assassinated in his Bed, and his Son is fatally wounded while making to his Rescue.

THE ASSASSIN ESCAPES.

FEARFUL EXCITEMENT!

The following important telegrams were received this morning announcing the assassination and death of President Lincoln, and the assassination of Secretary Seward and Mr. Frederick Seward. The act is one which must receive the most unqualified denunciation of all right thinking persons. It is to be hoped that the bloody assassin will be speedily caught and brought to justice. By the death of Mr. Lincoln, Vice-President Johnson succeeds to the Presidency.

WASHINGTON, 14.—President Lincoln and wife with other friends this evening visited Ford's Theatre for the purpose of witnessing the performance of the American Overture. It was announced that Gen. Grant would be present, but he took his late train for New Jersey. The theatre was thronged with people. During the third act, and while there was a temporary pause, a sharp report of a pistol was heard, which suggested nothing serious until a man rushed to the front of the President's box, waving a long dagger in his hand and exclaiming, "See, see, tyrant!" and immediately leaped from the box, which was in the second tier, to the stage beneath, and ran across to the opposite side, making his escape amid the bewilderment of the audience from the rear of the theatre, and shouting a hoarse yell. The screams of Mrs. Lincoln first disclosed the fact that the President had been shot. When all eyes were turned and rushed towards the stage, many exclaiming "What! what! what!" The excitement was of the wildest possible description. There was a rush towards the President's box, when the cry was heard "Stand back and give him air." It was found on examination that the President had been shot through the head, above and back of the temporal bone, and that none of the brains was coming out. He was removed to a private house opposite the Supreme Court, and others sent for to attend him.

WASHINGTON, 14.—The President is still alive, but growing weaker. The ball is lodged in the brain three inches from where it entered the skull. He remains unconscious, his condition is utterly hopeless.

LATEST.

WASHINGTON, 15th, 7:45 A.M. To Gen. Dix.—President Lincoln died at 22 minutes past 7 this morning.

INUNDATION OF SORE.

FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

The towns of Sorel, Three Rivers, Berthier, and the country in that vicinity, have recently been suffering from one of the most damaging floods ever known in these parts. The towns and suffering of the people have been great in the extreme. As a result of a series of heavy rains that about 200 persons are suffering by the disaster, losing everything they possessed, and that some twenty of the inhabitants were believed to be drowned. Business was completely paralyzed, the houses were half filled with water, and many families were almost starving for want of provisions. The storm of Wednesday added greatly to the destruction of property as well as to the sufferings of the people.

One of the cherished family possessions of Thomas S. Mills, 3260 Quondra Street, in this copy of the newspaper extra sold on the streets of St. Johns, Quebec, announcing the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln, April 15, 1864—76 years ago today. Mr. Mills' mother, Florence Hewson Mills, who died here two years ago at the age of 92, was then a young girl, but she foresaw the historic value that would be attached to the paper, preserved it and brought it with her when she came to Victoria to live some years later.

to give you the impression that if he once got a good idea he would be inclined to hang on to it with considerable obstinacy. But with that, a tolerance, friendliness, and bubbling sense of humor.

The first lecture was a disappointment to me. The lighting arrangements in the Seattle theatre were poor; the acoustics were worse, and Streit badly overestimated the carrying power of his own voice. The reaction, in so far as I could gauge it, was disappointment. But I revised my opinion in the next few days, when I heard him give precisely the same good speech in other places, with visibly excellent results.

THUNDER OUTSIDE

DURING THE DAYS of my tour with the Streit party the great drama of Hitler's invasion of Denmark and Norway was unfolding itself. On the first day, things had looked pretty black. From many sides we could hear comments about the possibility that Hitler might win this war. Mr. Streit had said plainly that he thought the U.S. would have to enter this war, whether she wanted to or not. People were hearing that, but with obvious gloomy reluctance.

On the next day, when it became obvious that the British navy was risking everything to cut the German lines of communication to their home bases, the reaction to the Streit plan waned too. Individuals and audiences seemed to be exceedingly relieved to find that, after all, they were going to have a breathing spell. As the whole point of the Streit "Union Now" idea is that it is a permanent peace plan, Americans seem to me to be turning towards it in the hope of finding in it what Scandinavia did not find in neutrality.

ENCOURAGEMENT

I was encouraged by what I learned in private. For it seems to me that if the plan to lay the foundations of democratic world government succeeds in time to save the world from the disaster which threatens it during or after this war it must be through men who have the power to act.

In other words, there must be someone somewhere who can exercise some initiative—like Washington in his day, Lincoln in his, Lloyd George and Woodrow Wilson in 1918.

Clarence Streit has discussed his plan in detail with quite a few of the key people in the world today. If you or I were to write down a list of 50 men or women in all the world who know of the Union Now plan and might be influential enough, before the end of 1944, to succeed in getting together representatives of the 10 leading democracies to discuss action on actual union, this much is sure—all of us might get about 10 names right.

There are at least 10 national leaders, in the 10 countries concerned in the Streit Union Now plan, who know all about the book and its purpose. One of them happens to be President de Valera, and he is by no means the most influential figure in the list, which includes wives, too. Perhaps if enough people wrote letters to President Roosevelt, or Prime Minister King, or Mr. King's favorite young man—Hon. Norman Rogers—the initiative might come from Canada.

The final play, "The Hundredth Trick," concerned Ireland in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. In this the students were assisted by William Inglis, Carson Pecknold and Adrian Pecknold; Harold Simmons appeared again in this play.

All of the players were under the general artistic direction of Miss G. Norah Hewlings, principal of the Esquimalt High School. Stage and house assistants were Aubrey Lamerton, Dick Burkmar, Gordon Pasley, Dick Dunlop, Bob Whitlock, Douglas Crowe, Marian Ball, Cedulla Gagnon, Arthur Young, Ian Harris, Bill Turner, Joyce Neil, Margaret Young, Doris Tams, Joan Scobie and Messrs. LONDON — The total British casualties in the war from the beginning of hostilities up to April 11 were 139,347 men, according to an announcement made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Harold Tennant, under-secretary for war.

LONDON—An important committee under the chairmanship of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to organize and speed up the supply of munitions of war was completed and held its first meeting today.

The following have been successful in passing the final examinations for B.C. land surveyors held recently in Victoria: S. D. Arnold, A. S. B. Jones, E. C. W. Lamarque, W. J. Moffatt, S. Schofield, A. J. Todd, J. A. Rutherford and R. D. Todd.

The war tax stamp was put into general usage today. A large supply of war tax stamps has been received by Postmaster Bishop, but the big demand already threatens to dispose of these in a very short time.

TOWN TOPICS

The preschool study group of Sir James Douglas P.T.A. group will meet on Wednesday at 8 at the home of Mrs. J. T. Marshall, 1260 McKenzie Street. Miss M. James of the Model School staff will be the speaker.

Members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria were amused at the regular luncheon Friday when Hubert Lethaby, the secretary, read a clipping from the Toronto Evening Telegram, dated April 3, 1940, in which it was stated that, "Vancouver Island, off the coast of British Columbia, is heavily wooded, and except for occasional lumber camps and fishing ports, is not settled."

"Success in P.T.A. Work" was the title of an address by Dr. Henrietta Anderson of the Normal School, to the Willows P.T.A. audience at their recent meeting. Dr. Anderson set cardinal principles for the association to work toward. The president, Mrs. A. L. Stevenson, gave a report on the P.T.A. convention held in Vancouver. Completing the program were pictures entitled "B.C. Sketches," and solos rendered by Mr. Jenkins, accompanied by Mrs. Milburn.

The monthly meeting of the Victoria and Islands Branch, Canadian Authors' Association, will be held in the Princess Louise room of the Empress Hotel next Thursday evening at 8. Rev. H. A. McLeod will speak on "Rupert Brooke, the poet of the last war." Miss Dorothy Parsons will be soloist. Brief talks by members will also be given. Donald A. Fraser speaking on "Marjorie Pickthart," and Miss Anne Marriott on "The Work of the Canadian Authors' Association."

The executive committee of the Army and Navy Veterans will meet on Tuesday evening at 8. The finance committee will meet prior to the executive at 7.30. The quarterly meeting of the unit will be held on Thursday evening at 8 in the auditorium. Election of a first vice-president of the unit will take place at this meeting. The quarterly meeting of the provincial command of the Army and Navy Veterans will be held in the Victoria Unit on April 20, when delegates from provincial units will assemble here.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors endorsed a protest already made by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., elect, against the change in the departure time of the east-bound Trans-Canada Airlines from Vancouver from 6.15 to 4.15, at their meeting yesterday. Members pointed out the value of the present air mail service to Victoria merchants and business firms lay largely in the fact that air mail from eastern Canada reached this city at 1 in the afternoon, and was delivered an hour later, giving opportunity to dispatch replies by the outward mail, closing here at 4.05 in the afternoon. This facility would not be afforded when the new closing time was set at 2.05 in the afternoon. The meeting felt the new regulations would be detrimental to Victoria business.

An interesting address on "My Impressions of the Mormons" was given by Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, B.A., Friday evening in the Emmanuel Baptist Hall. Mrs. MacLaurin in tracing the history of the Mormon religion from its founder, Joseph Smith, described realistically the hardships and ills that befell the thousands of converts on their great trek west through unknown country, finally reaching the arid but picturesque valley of Utah where they established themselves under the able leadership of Brigham Young. "It is through the efforts and industry of the Mormon people," said the speaker, "that this desert country

How Jim Wilson's Wife got started in Business

JIM WILSON was hard hit by the depression. For several years, he had an uphill fight to support his wife and two children with meagre earnings from odd jobs. His savings disappeared, and he was finally obliged to seek relief.

Early in 1936, Jim secured steady work and promptly began to pay off his accumulated debts. But in less than a year's time, Jim Wilson took pneumonia and died.

Heart-broken, Jim's wife faced the discouraging task of caring for her family. The future was black. Imagine her surprise, therefore, when she learned that Jim had taken out a $5,000 life insurance policy.

She sat down and wrote cheques until she had wiped off every debt that Jim had piled up. With the balance she started a small business.

Did it work out? It most certainly did. Nearly three years have passed since Jim died, but Mrs. Wilson has been able to provide for her family ever since. And all because of Jim's life insurance.

Every working day, Life Insurance in Canada pays out more than $500,000 to care for families who have lost their breadwinners, or to bring financial security to those whose working days are over.

10,000 HOMELESS AFTER COLON FIRE

COLON, Panama (AP)—A slow alarm and a shifting wind today were blamed for the speed with which fire blazed through the tenement section of Colon.

Saturday night, leaving in its wake $4,000,000 in damage, 10,000 homeless, and a third of the city in ruins.

The changing wind swept the blaze zig-zagging across the city through an area 16 blocks wide. In spite of the heavy material losses, no casualties were reported. However, the canal zone

Red Cross was mobilized to care for the sufferers. Engineers rushed repairs on electricity and gas lines, which were out of commission throughout half the city.

Sea shrubs found on the ocean floor are relatives of true coral and occur in pink, yellow and purple colors.

Well-known Couple Married Today

At St. Matthias Church, at 11 this morning, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends, Captain the Rev. Alan Gardiner, united in marriage Kathleen (Kae), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gaiger of 3015 Quadra Street, and Gunner Patrick N. Burke, R.C.A., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Burke of Ladysmith.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and chose to wear a frock of heavy crepe in rust color with satin polka dots in the same shade. Fashioned with short semipuffed sleeves, the waist was encircled with sash tied in a bow at the side, and at the neckline was placed a cluster of pearls. Her hat was fashioned with crown of the rust crepe, trimmed with ribbon ruching in a paler shade, swathed with veiling that formed a nose-veil. Her corsage was of gardenias and bridal rosebuds.

Her attendants were Mrs. Helen Willey, who wore a blue dress with hat to match and a mauve topcoat and a corsage bouquet of carnations and bridal rosebuds, and Mrs. John Gornall, gowned in rose ash shade, with hat in pink and blue straw, and her corsage bouquet of carnations and gardenias. She wore a short, smart fur jacket. Mr. Kenneth Darbyshire supported the bridegroom.

After the service, the guests assembled at the home of the bride's parents, Quadra Street, where a wedding breakfast was served from a table centred with a two-tier wedding cake, flanked with spring flowers in a color scheme of yellow and white.

The guests were welcomed by the bride's mother, wearing a dress of powder blue crepe with grey coat and navy blue hat, a corsage bouquet of gardenias, and by the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. Gaiger and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Eleanor Burke.

Throughout the home cherry blossom and spring flowers were arranged. Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. T. E. Ainscough and Mrs. John Murphy.

The bride and bridegroom left for a honeymoon on the mainland and up the island. For traveling the bride donned a smart beige overcoat, and her other accessories were in rust.

Miss Nancy Moore Wed in East Recently

The many Victoria friends of the bride will be interested in the following account from a Milwaukee paper of the wedding there on April 6 of Nancy, only daughter of Capt. H. W. R. Moore, Victoria, to Mr. Thomas R. Gettelman.

"As springlike as gentle April showers were the diaphanous frocks in yellow, peach and hyacinth blue which gowned the young women attending Miss Nancy Edith Moore at her wedding to Thomas Robert Gettelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gettelman, W. Washington Boulevard, Saturday afternoon at Calvary Presbyterian Church. With fresh purple and gold pansies and blue forget-me-nots in their hair the bridesmaids gathered around the pretty white clad bride, to form a colorful nuptial picture.

"Miss Jeannie Roehl, the maid of honor, wore a yellow marquisette gown which flared from the hip line. Bands of lace trimmed the square neckline and formed inserts in the skirt. The choux of flowers in her hair was caught to her head with long yellow velvet streamers. She carried a bouquet of pansies and forget-me-nots. Miss Helen Gettelman, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Connie Petersen were in peach. Miss Louise Gettelman, another sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Allan Bartlett wore hyacinth blue. All the bridesmaids' gowns were styled similarly to Miss Roehl's.

"Ivory satin fashioned the bride's princess style gown and ivory tulle her fingertip veil. The long sleeves of the dress were puffed at the shoulders and the skirt extended in back into a long train. Her veil was caught to an open work coronet of white satin. She carried a pendant shaped bouquet of white carnations set in the centre with a cluster of sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots. Around her neck the bride clasped a gold chain with a bow of pearls that was given to her by her mother, the late Mrs. H. W. R. Moore of Victoria, B.C. Mr. Moore, who came from Victoria for the nuptials, gave his daughter in marriage.

"Young Gerald Moore of Toronto, the bride's nephew, the ring bearer, led the wedding party to the altar in a Little Lord Fauntleroy suit of black velvet with eggshell satin collar and cuffs.

"Frederick Gettelman Jr. was his brother's best man and the ushers were Louis Wollaege, John Wakefield, George Pfister and Allan Bartlett.

"After the service, which was read by the Rev. John Lewis, the young people greeted their friends at a reception at the Wisconsin Club. White tulips, white carnations and sweet peas formed the table centrepieces. Mrs. H. V. Harvey, aunt of the bride, received in a navy blue marquisette dinner dress trimmed on the bodice with white braid and a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Gettelman wore a pink crepe dinner dress which

Social and Personal Plans Membership Tea in May

Miss Georgiana Scott of Toronto has arrived to spend the next two weeks in Victoria and is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. M. Watson, Newport Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Bishop of Greenwood Avenue, pioneer residents of this city, celebrated their first wedding anniversary yesterday afternoon at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Bishop, 1124 Greenwood Avenue. The venerable couple were married in Victoria and have lived here ever since. Only members of the immediate family and a few intimate friends were present at the informal reception. Mrs. Bishop served with a fragrant corsage bouquet of mauve and pink sweet peas and maiden-hair fern by the hostess, and a beautiful basket of flowers was also presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bishop by their family. Tea was served from a table covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of sweet peas, flanked by pastel tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Willie and Mrs. George Bishop presided at the table, and assisting in serving were Mrs. S. Rogers, Mrs. A. Cole and Miss H. Clyde. Vocal selections by Mrs. Coles and Miss Clyde added much to the pleasure of the happy reunion.

Junior Auxiliary's Style Show Big Success

St. Joseph's Nurses Home Filled for Striking Parade

Against an unusually attractive background simulating a garden with trellised arch, flowering shrubs, fragrant blossoms and verdant lawns, a fashion-show and tea was staged at the Nurses' Home of St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday afternoon before a capacity audience.

Sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary, the revue gave an indication of the newest in sports wear, afternoon and evening gowns, what the June bride will wear, and lovely apparel for her trousseau. Acting as mannequins were Mesdames R. MacDonald, Allan Pendray, Allan Butchart, Keith Dorman, Ronald Noakes and Misses Ann Critchley, Nan Eve, Stella Pennington, Hilda Brown, Valerie Kennedy-Smith and Marguerite McKenzie.

LONGER TORSO

The trend towards the longer torso and war's influence in the popular military line, were outstanding features of the many smart models shown.

Sports clothes are designed with dashing cut and color combinations. Bandana handkerchiefs replaced scarfs as neckwear. Riding togs are trig and workmanlike when expressed in the brown and tan check coat with dark tan whipcord breeches shown by one graceful model.

Black is to be as chic as ever, despite the rivalry of colors.

A chorus of approval greeted the black and white check afternoon frock worn with a black belt banded round the full skirt with black silk, and a smart white and black straw hat. A sheer wool bodice stitched to give a striped effect worn over a black and white dress with red suede belt with a black straw cartwheel hat was another smart combination.

EVENING WEAR

For evening wear black vies with white when it does not make it an ally. But for the woman who loves color for evening wear, a frothy gown of pastel yellow, pink and green, boasted the apt and intriguing description of "pink lemonade." Strikingly unusual, too, was the red, chiffon and brown, striped metallic evening gown, while Alice blue taffeta with undersleeve of lace, was the appropriate material used in the "Gone With the Wind" gown.

BRIDAL PARTY

Summer fashions would not be complete without a June bride, and Miss Nan Eve appeared in this role, wearing a beautiful white satin and lace wedding gown, with coronet veil, and sheaf of Calla lilies. She was attended by three attendants: Miss Valerie Kennedy-Smith as bridesmaid in a primrose yellow chiffon and lace gown with chignon of flowers, and the Misses Elizabeth Joan Hamilton of Shanghai, and Margold Mackenzie as flower girls in charming Kate Greenway chiffon frocks of pale apricot tone.

Sumptuous furs enhanced the smart effect of tailored ensembles and chic frocks, some lovely scarfs and wraps being shown of fine pelts.

Miss Rhoda Goward, the president, received the guests; the general convenor, Mrs. Clyde Savage, was assisted by Mrs. George Fatt, in charge of the tea, and Mesdames W. G. Harold, Cyril Bernard and Betty Jones; Misses Margaret Rogers, Bernadette Colbert, Florence Oates, Alyce Baines and Gladwyn Beasley, all members of the auxiliary assisted.

Mr. Austin Goward was responsible for the attractive setting and decorations, and Mrs. Betty Jones arranged the flowers on the tables. The mannequins paraded to the music of an orchestra, and Laura Hunter announced the various styles. The proceeds will be devoted to the Junior Auxiliary's work for the hospital.

MOUNT DOUGLAS P.T.A.

At a recent meeting held by the Mount Douglas High School P.T.A. Mrs. George Ingledew gave an interesting report on her visit as delegate to the Provincial Federated P.T.A. convention held in Vancouver last month. A copy of the report may be seen by those members who were not present by applying to the secretary. Mrs. M. W. Dawson and Mr. Tipper also spoke briefly on their visit to the convention and Mrs. Dawson gave the meeting some information regarding Saanich School matters. The meeting adjourned with the serving of refreshments.

St. Barnabas' Girls' Auxiliary will hold their annual concert on Tuesday evening at 8 in the schoolroom. There will be two plays presented by the girls entitled, "A Good Girl in the Kitchen" and "The Adolescent Young." Several musical numbers will conclude the program.

It crashed just inside Dutch territory near the village of Babberik, in the northeastern province of Gelderland.

There were reports one German plane was hit and crashed in Germany, while the other British plane appeared hit when it fled.

The British plane, a reconnaissance machine, was believed to have carried a crew of three. Two bodies were found in the wreckage.

Germans Admit Narvik Blocked

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communique today said:

"On April 14 new troops and war material were brought into territories of southern Norway which contributed to assure and considerably reinforce the situation. No important enemy action from the sea took place against these territories."

"At Narvik the day was calm. Rather important British naval forces blocked the entrance to the port."

"At Bergen two British combat planes attacked a German trade ship and sank it. The two planes were shot down a short time later by German pursuit planes."

"In the Oslo region German troops took Honefoss. In summary, it may be noted that in the Oslo region the attempt at Norwegian mobilization was completely broken."

"Important quantities of war material fell into the hands of the Germans. German losses are insignificant."

"In the Skagerrak our forces wiped out two more enemy submarines, so that the number of enemy submarines sunk in recent days by our naval and air forces now has reached seven. The Norwegian submarine Hval was captured. It will be put in service with a German crew."

"Air force units carried out reconnaissance flights over the North Sea and all the Norwegian coast on April 14."

No Merchantmen Sunk

By the Canadian Press

Naval warfare attending Germany's invasion of Norway kept the bulk of Nazi seapower at work in the actual theatre of war, with the result that few merchant ships became the victims of German raiders in the week ended April 12.

Numerous transports were sunk in the Skagerrak and other northern waters, but, although normally merchant ships, these vessels are classed as ships of war when carrying troops.

No Allied vessel was sunk during the week. The Allies snared one German merchantman, the 7,129-ton Amasis. "A Norwegian vessel was sunk before Norway joined the Allies against Germany, while one Swedish sinking and a Greek loss completed the week's casualties.

Figures for the week compiled by the Canadian Press follow:

Nationality	No. of ships	Tonnage
Swedish	1	9,076
German	1	7,129
Greek	1	4,843
Norwegian	1	2,118

Losses Leave Nazi Navy No Longer Battle Unit

By J. F. SANDERSON
LONDON (CP)—The flashing guns of Allied warships, the silent, deadly torpedoes of submarines, and the high flying bombers of the Royal Air Force in the past week have reduced the German navy to a mere fraction of its pre-war strength.

Today, with the list of casualties still incomplete, Admiral Erich Raeder has under his command a navy stripped of its big gun effectiveness. Hitler's navy, a week after his Scandinavian adventure was launched, can no longer be considered as a battle unit.

As nearly as can be established, Germany has only one battleship left afloat, the 26,000-ton Scharnhorst, damaged by the Retown's gunfire and now lurking wounded and unable to find a port for repairs. Two battleships, the Bismarck and the Tirpitz, each of 35,000 tons, were launched more than a year ago and are probably nearing completion.

Germany started the war with three pocket battleships, the Deutschland, the Admiral Graf Spee and the Admiral Scheer. The Scheer was scuttled off Uruguay after being chased into Montevideo by British cruisers. The Scheer was hit by at least one, and possibly three torpedoes by the British submarine Spearfish early last Thursday morning and if she did not go to the bottom will certainly need months in drydock. The Deutschland, which was named the Luetow, has been shrouded in mystery for weeks—ever since Germany suddenly announced a new name for her. Of Germany's cruiser strength, only two and possibly three remain at sea. At least one-third of her destroyer fleet has been sunk.

It is now clear the Gneisenau, sister ship of the Scharnhorst completed two years ago, was sunk by Norwegian coast batteries. These ships, with the pocket battleships, were Germany's strongest naval unit at the start of the war. Of the five, two have been sunk, two seriously damaged and one remains mysteriously in hiding.

Which of Germany's cruisers remains afloat is not definitely known. It is probable she has two of the new Hipper class of powerful 10,000-ton ships, mounting eight-inch guns and carrying three aircraft, and possibly a light cruiser of 6,000 tons. The 10,000-ton Bluecher and the 6,000-ton Karlsruhe are admitted by the Germans to have been sunk last week.

A week ago Germany probably had about 30 destroyers, but at least 12 or 13 have been sunk. Even the few heavy ships left under Admiral Raeder's command would be handicapped tremendously without adequate destroyer escort and the loss of these small terriers of the sea is a double blow to the naval strength of the Reich.

Describe British Victory at Narvik

LONDON — The Royal Navy smashed its way into Narvik fjord Saturday and there sank seven Nazi destroyers. Led by the 31,000-ton battleship Warspite, veteran of Jutland, which silenced the German shore batteries with devastating broadsides from her 15-inch guns.

Here is the admiralty's calmly worded story of the exploit:

"Since the attack upon German destroyers in Narvik on Wednesday by the second destroyer flotilla, this flotilla, with reinforcements, has been blockading the enemy in Narvik fjord.

"This morning at about noon H.M.S. Warspite, accompanied by a strong force of destroyers using minesweeping and other appliances advanced up the fjord to attack the German destroyers, some of them already damaged, which were sheltering in the harbor, and also to engage any shore batteries which might have been erected.

"According to reports which have been received from the commander-in-chief, Vice-Admiral Whitworth, holding his flag in the Warspite, commanded the attack, which was extremely successful.

"Enemy opposition was not found to be remarkably severe. A field howitzer which had been mounted ashore was put out of action by the fire of H.M.S. Cossack.

"Four German destroyers were shattered and sunk in Narvik Bay.

"Others fled up Rumbaks fjord, a small inlet eight or nine miles long behind Narvik town. These also were pursued and destroyed.

TAKE TO HILLS

"Parties of men, possibly German soldiers, have been seen escaping from it over the hills, and further details are awaited.

"This destruction of seven of the enemy destroyers was not achieved without loss. Three British destroyers were damaged in the fight, but not seriously, and the British loss of life is believed to have been very small.

"No estimate can be made at present of German losses in personnel, but the seven destroyers sunk must have counted over 1,000 men.

"The Admiralty has signalled congratulations to Commander-in-Chief Admiral Sir Charles Forbes, to Vice-Admiral Whitworth, and to the officers and men engaged in this vigorous, daring and skilfully conducted action, which may well tend to clarify the situation on this part of the Norwegian coast."

CATHOLICS MARK SCHOOL JUBILEE

Bishop John C. Cody and the Mother Provincial and sisters of St. Ann's attended the 75th anniversary celebration of the foundation of St. Ann's School in the Cowichan Valley, observed at Duncan yesterday and today.

The jubilee program was opened in the Duncan Theatre last evening with many civic and church dignitaries in attendance. The program included the jubilee pageant play, with "Cowichan," an acoustic of historical event, recited and enacted to special music and embodying "The Touch of the Master's Hand," the play and poem-acrostic being specially written for the occasion by Sister Mary Dorothea, prefect of studies for the western province. Indian drill, small boys' flag drill and rhythmic band numbers also featured the program.

At St. Ann's School for Boys, at 10:30 this morning, High Mass was celebrated in the chapel, with Rev. Father W. Lemmens as celebrant, assisted by Rev. Father E. D. Scheelen, as deacon and Rev. Father J. A. Latour as subdeacon. The Bishop of Victoria presided in the sanctuary. The mass was sung by the boys' choir of St.

Cromwell to Seek U.S. Senate Seat

MONTREAL (CP)—James H. R. Cromwell, United States Minister to Canada, told reporters here today that "all being well, I intend announcing my intentions to be a candidate for the U.S. Senate from New Jersey on Wednesday."

Mr. Cromwell made the statement as he arrived from Ottawa to deliver an address before the Canadian Club here.

Asked for an opinion on the German invasion of Norway and Denmark, Mr. Cromwell replied: "My views on the European situation have not changed in the slightest. I think you know what they are."

Mr. Cromwell told the newsmen he would visit Vancouver this June in an official capacity. He did not elaborate on the statement.

Ann's. Boys of the Indian Consolidated School, now under the direction of the sisters of St. Ann, attended and sang at the outdoor luncheon arranged by Sister M. Daniel and her staff.

This afternoon pontifical benediction of thanksgiving for the harvest of the years will be given by the bishop.

Nazi Plot Nipped By Swedish Police

PARIS (CP)—Havas News Agency said it had learned on excellent authority that the Swedish government nipped in the bud a Nazi coup set for last Thursday night.

Swedish Nazi organizations, under German control, had received secret orders for a sudden seizure of key points—railway stations, power plants and other places—to neutralize resistance to the invading Reichswehr, Havas said.

The government took vigorous counter-measures as soon as it heard of the plot. Suspects were arrested or watched, and buildings were placed under special guard, the news agency said.

Genevieve Tabouis, writing in L'Ouvrier, said Berlin was "stupid" by phenomenal and ever increasing Norwegian resistance. Adolf Hitler, she said, had told Premier Mussolini through the intermediary of the German ambassador at Rome that military operations in northern Europe would be ended by April 15, to day.

After this date, Mussolini was informed, the Reich would install the major part of its air and naval fleets on the west coast of Norway.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT COMMISSIONS Y.M.C.A. To Gigantic War Task

Your Help now urgently needed

The "RED TRIANGLE" is a welcome sight to men in uniform both in Canada and overseas. It assures them home comforts, companionship, relaxation and inspiration wherever they may be.

FROM the Canadian Government the Y.M.C.A. has again accepted a gigantic and vital responsibility . . . to help in maintaining the morale of Canadian Troops, both at home and overseas, by providing facilities for their comfort, enjoyment and inspiration during off-duty hours and on leave.

Already the "Y" has swung into ACTION! Since the declaration of war the facilities of 44 Y.M.C.A. Buildings from coast to coast have been made available without charge to Troops in training, for baths, swimming, physical training and social activities. 25 Y.M.C.A. Centres have been opened in Camps and Barracks . . . Red Triangle Clubs have been equipped and opened in many cities . . . Stationery, Games, Books, Concerts, Motion Picture Shows, Dances have been provided without charge. . . in Halifax a hostel with sleeping accommodation for 500 men is now being operated by the "Y" . . . trained "Y" Secretaries went over with the first Canadian contingent to lay the foundation of this great undertaking in England and in France . . . already the "Y" is operating 9 Huts at Aldershot . . . where hundreds of dollars of sports equipment and games have been distributed free to the boys. The operations of the new "Beaver Club" in London are now being entirely financed by the Canadian Y.M.C.A.—and all programmes are being conducted by an executive staff of trained "Y" Secretaries.

All this has been done—on faith and borrowed money. The next move is YOURS.

$1,038,000 is urgently needed NOW—if this vital work is to be continued and extended. This is the minimum requirement based upon a comprehensive study and estimate of the needs, in Canada and Overseas.

As vitally important as military and first aid equipment is the morale of the troops. In Y.M.C.A. files is a letter from the late Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, reading in part: "I have often contended that it is hard to estimate the real value of good morale, and it has been in helping to keep up the morale of our forces that you have won your right to be acknowledged forever a factor in winning the victories."

From his camping experiences in Canada a Y.M.C.A. OFFICER INTRODUCED THE TUMP-LINE to the Canadian army during the Great War. It lightened many an awkward load, just as "Y" programmes lighten many a heavy heart.

The Boys depend on the "Y"
... the "Y" depends on YOU

Scout News

About 35 scouts and leaders attended the meeting of St. Mary's Troop, which was opened by duty patrol leader, John Jones. Following roll call and inspection which included pocket inspection, there was practice in sign drill. Patrol instruction was followed by a signalling game. Three recruits were welcomed. Peter Harrison was given his fireman badge, and Bernard Byng his fireman and handyman badges.

The weekly meeting of the First Cathedral Troop had a large attendance. J. Harvey opened the evening, which was spent in games and instruction. Badges were received by D. Patterson, A. Kramer and K. Pearce. In the afternoon, the newly-formed First Cathedral Cub Pack had a good meeting.

Will Speak On Telescope Making

"How to Make a Telescope" will be the topic dealt with by R. and L. Hopkins at the regular meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Victoria Branch, to be held in the Y.W.C.A. parlors on Wednesday evening at 8.

The discussion of the construction of a telescope will be accompanied by a demonstration, and as notes on the subject will prove helpful to those who are interested, it is suggested that persons who attend bring pencil and paper.

Members and friends of the society are reminded that this will be the last meeting of the spring session.

Catholic Women Are Busy on War Work

The Victoria subdivision of the Catholic Women's League at its monthly meeting, with Mrs. W. C. McManus in the chair, welcomed Mrs. Tanny, president of the Regina subdivision, who is a visitor here. Volunteers for the Three Services canteen for April were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. E. Masterson, Mrs. E. Hornsby, Miss E. O'Brien, Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. P. C. Shaw. Mrs. J. J. O'Brien reported remailing over 1,700 pieces of literature to outlying districts. She asked all to co-operate in making the newly established Credit Union for Victoria a success. The Red Cross unit of the C.W.L. reported on by Mrs. Reid, showed much handwork, sewing and knitting had been done during the past month. Mrs. Ebbs-Canavan, convener of education, congratulated Rev. Father Gaudette on the success of the Cathedral Boys' Choir. She announced the winners of the history prizes donated to St. Ann's Academy as Teresa Leahy, and to St. Louis College as Daniel O'Connor; the scholarship in memory of the late Monsignor Letourme had been inaugurated by the C.W.L. and also that St. Ann's Academy was making preparations for the celebration of its 75th anniversary.

Other committees reported on were: Child welfare, Mrs. J. D. Kissinger; study clubs, Miss J. M. Clay; citizenship, Mrs. F. T. Porter; lay retreats, Mrs. P. C. Shaw; magazines, Mrs. E. Hornsby; tag days and sewing for the Christian Brothers.

METCHOSIN

A concert and dance was held in the Metchosin Community Hall last Friday under the joint auspices of the Metchosin Catholic Church and the hall committee. Rev. Father Monahan sponsored the efforts of the Catholic Church and Mrs. J. D. McCreight was the convener, with Mrs. G. F. Jennings for the hall committee. The affair was well attended. A varied program was given, with James McGrath, chairman, leading community singing. A skit entitled "Domestic Flurry" was presented by Mrs. Charles Wilson, J. McGrath and Alec McGowan. Tap dances were given by Ken and Walter Grey, and Keith Littler, boy soprano, rendered "In an Old Dutch Garden," and as an encore "Apples on a Lilac Bush" and "Cockles and Mussels." Miss Jean Adams being his accompanist. An amusing sketch was given by Gunner Blair of the Canadian Royal Artillery, and songs were also given by Mrs. Chas. Wilson, James McGrath and Tom Rafferty. Moving pictures of the coronation of the Pope were shown by Rev. Father Gaudette. Piano accompanists were Mrs. Powers Potts and Mrs. Grant. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Martin, Mrs. W. H. House and Mrs. W. Wilty, and the table decorations were by Mrs. John Taylor. The concert was followed by a dance to the music of Bunk McEwen's orchestra. An afternoon tea and card party, for which prizes will be given, will take place in Metchosin Hall April 25, from 2.30 to 4, for the benefit of hall funds.

ONLY IMPERIAL OIL USES ALL FOUR

of these modern scientific refining processes in the manufacture of the new Marvelube

Other refiners use one or more of these processes but not all of them.

Vacuum Distillation—separates gummy black substances from the oil, which, in an engine, cause heavy carbon deposits.

Phenol Solvent Refining—removes undesirable materials from the lubricating oil, the presence of which causes oil to sludge very badly.

Solvent Dewaxing—separates the wax from the oil, permitting it to flow freely at low temperatures which, in turn, allows the engine to turn over easily in cold weather.

Clay Contact Treatment—gives the oil its final polish and removes the last trace of impurities ensuring the production of an oil of highest quality.

A NEW AND Better MOTOR OIL

AS ANNOUNCED OVER THE AIR FROM COAST TO COAST

Just in time for your Spring change-over

Right now at Imperial Oil dealers, the New Marvelube is ready for your Spring change-over. It is the most modern development in automobile lubrication. It has been specially engineered to meet the requirements of today's engines, and to stand up under the higher speeds, temperatures and pressures at which they operate. To you the New Marvelube means two things:

1. Economy. Under the high temperatures and pressures at which today's motors operate, the New Marvelube stands up longer. Definitely, you use less oil.

2. A cleaner, livelier engine. Those elements found in most oils which heat breaks down into varnish, carbon and gum, have been removed by new scientific refining methods. Your engine stays clean and lively. Wear is reduced. Upkeep costs come down.

It's time to change to summer oil. Be sure to change to the most modern oil science has yet produced. See your Imperial Oil Dealer—and ask for the New Marvelube.

Meralomas Champs

Whip Alumni

By PETE SALLAWAY

HIS CINCINNATI teammates finally have given up on Johnny Vander Meer.

Even patient Bill McKechnie, a remarkable hander of pitchers, can't understand the no-hit no-run hero of 1938.

When Vander Meer turned in successive no-hit no-run performances two summers ago, McKechnie believed the Jersey youngster would take his place with the great left-handers.

Warren Giles, the Rhineland's general manager, had to take time off to personally manage Vander Meer's affairs. Now Vander Meer is practically forgotten. The last bit of confidence he had apparently has disappeared.

Walking along with a duffel bag in his duffle on the training trip the other day, he remarked, as though resigned to it all: "I still got a uniform, but that's about all."

"If they could get him out of the league," commented one of the Redlegs, "and send him to some minor league club where he could win consistently it might restore his mental equilibrium. But the way he is now, he sweats over every pitch. He works himself into such a lather his eye-balls fairly pop out of his head with the exertion of a throw."

"It's too bad. He's a fine boy. But I doubt he has the stuff he had in 1938. He didn't have all of it last year."

Vander Meer's headaches developed at the Tampa conditioning base a year ago. First it was old appendix trouble. Then he had a touch of the flu. Next he complained of a sore arm. . . . real or fancied . . . consulted specialists.

The answer to Vander Meer is that a pitcher has to have more than a stronger arm to remain in (Turn to Page 20, Col. 8)

With only one season of grid warfare experience, V.H.S. Alumni gave one of the gamest showings that could be asked of a team in their 8 to 7 defeat by Vancouver Meralomas in the British Columbia junior title battle at Macdonald Park Saturday.

The more experienced, and much heavier Meralomas went on the field confident and got the jump on the locals by running up a 7 to 0 score in the first period. Alumni tightened their belts and went after the main-line champs with everything they had, failing to catch them by a single point.

More than 500 spectators were at the enclosure for the game, and were proud of the home team's "never say die" spirit, and the way each player carried out his job on the field of play.

The Vancouver team, too, earned a good deal of praise. They had their work cut out during the afternoon as the score indicates.

There was no outstanding player in the local team's performance. Vic Dale, Austin, Cullin and George Harknett shared the ball carrying honors, each boy doing an excellent job. Rubie Price took two dynamite passes for big gains from Dale, which had the fans up on their feet. This line generally gave a rugged and well-played game. They were light in comparison with the opposing line though, and failed to stop the big boys at times.

PLAY ON GROUND

A strong, gusty wind kept play on the ground most of the afternoon. Dale's terrific punting abilities were not demonstrated to the crowd as they would have been if Dame Nature had turned off the blower. Most followers of the sport figured Dale's kicking would have carried Alumni through to a win had conditions been right.

Rex Wilson, Ross McKissock, Moore Watkins and Ken Campbell did the ball carrying chores for Meralomas. Campbell, tricky and fast, picked up plenty of yardage on end runs, while Wat-

Esquimalt Wins;
City Protest

Charley Lewis, manager of the Victoria City Football Club, today prepared to lodge a protest with the British Columbia Football Commission, against Esquimalt for using unsigned players on Saturday at Athletic Park, when they defeated the City 3 to 2 in the first round of the Province Cup series.

At the same time Lewis will seek a ruling from the commission on two players who left the City club to play in Seattle with Victoria West on Saturday in an exhibition game. This left Lewis short-handed for the cup battle. He was only able to muster 10 players.

The goal that gave Esquimalt victory came from the boot of centre-forward "Scotty" Stewart late in the second half. He took a pass from left-winger Archibald and scored after every player in the front line had toed the leather.

GOAL SCORING

The first goal came in the first half when Les Bradley deflected Stewart's attempt into the City net. The second half was only three minutes old when the boys from the dockyard village made it 2 to 0, Stewart beating goalie Stewardson with a slow roller. At the 10-minute mark of the half Condon whittled the opposition's lead to a single goal. The score was finally evened up, Condon finding the net on a penalty kick. Earlier Stewardson saved, from the penalty spot, Barnswell kicking. Eleven minutes from the close, Stewart piled in the winning marker for Esquimalt.

Victoria High School blanked Ladysmith High School 4 to 0 in the preliminary match at the park. This was a replay of the island high school final. Louis McCormack scored two goals for the locals, Popham and Bissenden one apiece. Half time score stood 1 to 0.

'Y' Athletes Win

Dominate Seattle Meet

Victoria Y.M.C.A. athletes scored another triumph Saturday

when a team of swimmers, gymnasts and badminton players, under Coach Archie McKinnon, took all-round honors at the annual "Y" Pacific Northwest championship meet in Seattle.

The local aggregation competed against teams from Portland,

Longview, Salem, Bellingham, Vancouver, B.C.; Spokane, Tacoma,

Everett, Portland East and Seattle.

Even though most of Coach McKinnon's senior swimmers were unable, at the last minute, to make the trip, the Victoria team made the best collective showing in the three sections of the championships.

Perhaps the outstanding local triumph was Doug Marsland's winning the all-round gymnast title in the senior division. Marsland also captured individual honors for performances on the mats and horse. Don Kerr, also of the local team, was second to Marsland in the all-round contest and was first in performances on the high and parallel bars.

JUNIORS WIN RELAY

In the junior swimming, a team composed of Bob Johnstone, Len

Coverdale, George Fry and Bob Montgomery, won the freestyle relay. Fry, Teddy R. and Coverdale, swimming backstroke, breaststroke and freestyle, respectively, were second in the junior medley relay.

Stan Peden was third on the 100 yards backstroke, and Hugh

Hockey Scoring

Two Rangers Tops

Two centres, both members of the New York Rangers' championship team, shared the lead for scoring in the Stanley Cup playoffs that ended at Toronto Saturday night when the Rangers edged out the Maple Leafs 3 to 2 to succeed Boston Bruins as world's hockey champions.

Tied, according to unofficial statistics, with nine points in 12 games were Neil Colville of Edmonton and Phil Watson, Watson, second leading playmaker in the National Hockey League during the regular season, had three goals and six assists while the grey-thatched Colville had two goals and seven assists.

Behind this pair came another centre, Syl Apps of Toronto, and Rangers' Bryan Hextall, both with seven points. Apps total was comprised of five goals and two assists while Hextall, a crack duck shooter from Winnipeg who led all goal getters in the regular schedule, had four goals and three assists.

Apps and rookie Goldup of the Leafs shared the lead as goal scorers. Neil Colville's seven assists placed him at the top of the playmakers.

Comeback to Win CupRangers-Leafs
Make Whoopee

By WILLIAM H. DUMSDAY
TORONTO (CP)—The milkman was well under way on his route before peace was restored yesterday to the boisterous celebrations that followed New York Rangers' successful conquest of Toronto Maple Leafs to win the Stanley Cup.

The merry-making which started in the Rangers' dressing room Saturday night after they came from behind to down the Leafs 3 to 2 in overtime, continued in a downtown hotel till some of the players and executives boarded a train for Manhattan yesterday morning.

Coach Frankie Boucher admitted "we had to go all out to beat one of the fightingest clubs I've ever seen."

Pandemonium reigned in the Ranger dressing room as Manager Connie Smythe and members of the Leaf team congratulated the New York players. In their own quarters, the Leafs proved good losers and many of them later joined the Rangers in the dawn-defying whoopee.

Big Red Horner, the National League's perennial bad man, said the series was "a credit to hockey." The Toronto defence-man has played in seven Stanley Cup finals "and this was the cleanest and fastest of them all—the Rangers won fairly and squarely."

PATRICK PROUD

Manager Lester Patrick who gazed into an inkwell before the series opened and called the Rangers to win the cup in six games, gazed into the bowl of the trophy itself and shouted "see there—L. Patrick—away back in 1907." He was a member of the champion Montreal Wanderers' that year.

The boss' enthusiasm was a signal for fun and soon the bowl was at a rakish angle on Patrick's head—Bryan Hextall, who fired the winning goal, placed it there.

"I don't think you'll ever see it duplicated—a father and two sons on the same Stanley Cup team," said the silver-haired Lester, his arms proudly on the broad shoulders of his two starry sons, Lynn and Murray.

Perhaps the most modest player on the New York club, Hextall gave the credit for his payoff marker to his forward-line mates, Dutch Hiller and Phil Watson who made the play.

"The best team won," said Smythe. "But I'm satisfied with the way our boys stretched themselves as far as they did. That facoff inside our blue line in the third period when the Rangers stole the puck to manoeuvre their first goal was the turning point of the game."

Extra Play

TORONTO (CP)—New York Rangers, having done everything that Manager Lester Patrick asked and predicted, drank champagne from the Stanley Cup yesterday in the manner of all previous hockey champions of the world.

The Rangers, with one of the most brilliant rallies in the history of the classic, defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 3 to 2 in overtime Saturday night to capture the best of seven cup finals in six games.

Patrick, a grey-haired veteran of more than a dozen such series, had said they would do it in six, just as he had forecast accurately that his team would defeat Boston's National League champions in six games in the semifinals.

Bryan (Ducky) Hextall of Winnipeg, the league's leading goal-getter, fired the winning shot after two minutes and seven seconds of extra play on a relay from his teammates on the rough-neck line, Wilf Hiller and Phil Watson. It was fitting that the threesome that stood out above every other in the series should break it up.

CHEER RANGERS

For a moment the audience of 14,894 customers, stunned after seeing their favorites' long lead overcome, sat silent. Then they stood to cheer a team that had proved its greatness, while the Maple Leafs congratulated their conquerors at centre-ice.

The Leafs bore down almost continually, to score in the first chapter through Sylvanus Apps, and in the second through Nick Metz—and to miss half a dozen other big opportunities. Then the Ranger attack came to life.

With eight minutes of the third period gone, Neil Colville of Edmonton scored with a backhand shot on a pass from Alex Shibicky, game Winnipeg wing-man who played despite an ankle injury. Two minutes later the Winnipeg rookie, Alf Pike, snapped Clint Smith's pass into an upper corner past goalie Turk Broda to level the score, while Dave (Sweeney) Schirner of Toronto and Mac Colville were serving penalties for slashing.

Still the Rangers weren't through and, with less than three minutes to play in extra time, Watson, pushed the puck into the net beneath Broda in a pile-up. Referee Bill Stewart disallowed the goal, despite concerted Ranger protests, because Hextall was lying on Broda on the crease.

The Leafs went back to the attack as overtime started. Gordon Drillon skated back to check Hextall and collided with a teammate, Jack Church, at the defence. They fell to the ice together and, with those two out of the way, the Rangers worked a quick dippy-doodle play.

Calgary Plays
Ports Tonight

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Port Arthur Bear Cats must stop Calgary Stampede's high-scoring centre-men tonight to retain a chance of winning the Canadian senior hockey title, a second consecutive year.

Stampede lead the Allan Cup holders two games to one, with one game tied, in the best-of-five western championship series. The Cats must win tonight to force overtime or a sixth game to decide the western representative in the national final.

KIRKLAND WINS

TORONTO (CP)—Pound for pound, and they're not a big team, Kirkland Lake could stand today alongside any former eastern Canada senior hockey championship squad and not suffer from the comparison. The speedy Blue Devils clinched their right to greatness when they completed their sweep of the finals against Montreal Royals here Saturday.

Kirkland Lake defeated the highly-rated Quebec champions 6 to 4 before 8,280 customers for their third victory in three games.

KENORA IN FINAL

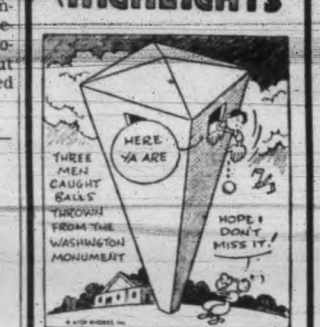

WINNIPEG (CP)—Kenora Thistles overcame a two-goal lead to tie Edmonton Athletic Club 2 to 2 Saturday night and qualify for the Dominion junior hockey final. Thistles will meet Oshawa Generals, defending titlists, in a best-of-five series starting in Winnipeg tomorrow.

Athletics will hand Thistles the Abbott Memorial Cup, presented them last year when, as Edmonton Roamers and part of New York Rangers' farm chain, they won the western title in a play-down with Brandon Elks. They were defeated by Oshawa who won the Memorial Cup. The Albertans reorganized as an independent club this season for another attempt at the national crown.

Kenora entered Saturday night's game with five points to Edmonton's three and the split decision preserved Kenora's two-point margin. The series was based on two points for a win and one for a tie.

CITY TO MEET

A special meeting of the Victoria City football team will be held tomorrow night at 8 in the Colonist board-room.

Canon Chadwick Successor Named

It was announced by Bishop H. E. Sexton during last evening's service at St. John's Church, that Rev. George Biddle of St. Phillips Anglican parish in Vancouver had accepted the rectory of the church.

Mr. Biddle will take the place of Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, who announced his retirement at the annual vestry meeting of St. John's early in the year. Mr. Biddle will take over his new charge in three months.

Mr. Biddle has gained a reputation of being a good preacher as well as a devoted clergyman. He has enjoyed the confidence of his parishioners everywhere he has been.

"St. John's is lucky to secure such a fine man," Bishop Sexton said.

Mr. Biddle was educated at St. John's College, Winnipeg, and was ordained in 1924 after serving with the troops during the Great War.

He has held various appointments in Calgary, including the rectory of St. Barnabas Church from which he went to St. Phillips Church in Vancouver in 1933. At the beginning of the year he was chosen to succeed Archdeacon C. Swanson as rector of St. Steven's Church, Calgary, and as archdeacon of Calgary on Archdeacon Swanson's appointment to St. George's Church, Winnipeg. For various reasons Archdeacon Swanson withdrew his acceptance of St. George's rectory and Mr. Biddle remained in Vancouver.

This must be done by the provincial Public Works Department since the district is in unorganized territory. Mr. Chambers said it was the first case in this district that house-to-house service had been granted.

Escaped Denmark As Hitler Struck

"If we had remained in Denmark any longer we should now be in a concentration camp," said Mrs. Gwen Downes, of 2621 Lincoln Road, who has just returned to the city with her daughter Marguerite from Copenhagen.

Mrs. Downes and her daughter left Copenhagen February 25 aboard an icebreaker, the Mjolner, for Helsinki, Oslo and Bergen, Norway, from where they took passage by a Scandinavian liner via the Faroe Islands route to New York.

The invasion of Denmark and Norway by the Nazis was not in retaliation of the British blockade of Scandinavian waters, asserts Mrs. Downes.

The unprovoked invasion of these small neutral countries had been planned for a long time by Hitler and would have been undertaken sooner but for the unprecedented ice in the Baltic in one of the coldest winters Europe has experienced.

"In order to get out of Copenhagen when we did, the icebreaker Mjolner, on which we traveled, had to plough its way through the ice. The German invasion began as soon as the ice broke up."

The Danes were in constant fear of invasion, but they hoped their fears were groundless and that it would not happen, said Mrs. Downes.

"The people were very pessimistic, but most hopeful when we left Denmark," she said. "Our friends in Copenhagen tried to impress upon us that our hurried plans to leave the country were unnecessary, but we were not convinced."

SENSED INVASION

"We know something was going to happen, and quickly. You could sense impending disaster all about you. While the Danes are normally neutral, they hate the Nazis, for they retain bitter memories of 1864, when the Germans seized Schleswig-Holstein."

This time the Danes were counting on the British to prevent invasion by Germany. "If we must be invaded," they said, "let it be England."

If the Germans are counting on needed food supplies from Denmark they will be disappointed, in the opinion of Mrs. Downes. Most of the seed and fertilizer used by the Danes for their crops and also feed for their cattle is imported from England, and the supply of these products are now cut off.

"Hitler appears to have killed the goose that lays the golden eggs," she commented.

Rationing to some extent has been in effect in Denmark throughout the winter. "We were rationed on sugar, tea and coffee, and we were informed at the end of January that heating would cost us 120 per cent extra," said Mrs. Downes.

"Luckily, we had a good stock of sugar on hand, and we were able to obtain plenty of hot water in our flat."

The rationing did not cause any serious hardship in Denmark up to the period of the invasion. But now it will be different, for the Danes are in the habit of living well, and will not submit willingly to the food restrictions imposed by the Germans.

IN GERMANY

The German people are by no means unanimously in favor of the war, or Hitler's policies, says Mrs. Downes, who visited Hamburg, Cologne and other German cities just before the outbreak of war.

In Hamburg, a prominent German of the city told her at the time the Jews were being persecuted.

"Every decent German deplores this as much as you do. This is not the will of the German people, it is the work of that devil Goebbels."

Tourist Dollars To Finance War

"All signs point to 1940 being the biggest tourist year ever experienced in the history of Canada. Last year our tourist travel brought in $275,000,000 in revenue, but we fully expect it to exceed the $300,000,000 mark this year," said D. Leo Dolan, Ottawa, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, in an address at the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce today in Spencer's dining-room.

Mr. Dolan spoke of the great effort Canada was making this year to draw American tourists to Canada and of the importance of the tourist industry as a part of the country's wartime economy.

"Tourist dollars are going to play a big part in securing for Canada much-needed American exchange to adequately finance our war effort. In fact the tourist dollars are most precious to us because we do need foreign exchange for our war financing," he said.

Mr. Dolan said that at the present time he was on a tour to meet government and local tourist promotion organizations for the purpose of co-ordinating tourist plans for 1940.

The Canadian Bureau could only do a national job, sell the country in a national way, but in order to make it a successful sale the full co-operation of civic and provincial tourist organizations was necessary.

MORE ADVERTISING

The federal government had decided to increase its advertising appropriation for tourist advertising in the United States by $200,000 over last year, the speaker said, which gave the Canadian Travel Bureau $500,000 to spend during the ensuing year.

The big advertising campaign in magazines was just recently completed. Yesterday the newspaper campaign broke in the United States. "This campaign is the most extensive ever carried out. Whereas in previous years we had to stop newspaper advertising in May due to restricted funds, this year we will be able to carry our program of advertising right through June and July."

In addition to newspaper and magazine advertising we have a big radio drive launched which will be broadcast over 260 stations in the United States, giving pictures of beautiful Canada and urging travel northward to Canada.

At this point, Mr. Dolan declared that the British Columbia government during the last three years had done a remarkably fine job in advertising the tourist attractions of the province. It was one of the finest jobs done by a province.

"The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau is, to my way of thinking, one of the most progressive organizations of its kind anywhere. George I. Warren is a veteran in tourist promotion work and an extremely capable official," the Ottawa tourist director declared. He hoped the local bureau would continue to keep up the good work.

"One of the reasons why 1940 promised to be the top year in tourist travel, Mr. Dolan said, was that in the United States this year there was an extra tourist market in the form of travel dollars formerly spent in Europe, the West Indies and South America. It was estimated $183,000,000 were spent by Americans in those three countries last year, and we are shooting for a big share of it this year."

He paid tribute to the splendid co-operation Canada has been receiving from United States travel organizations of all kinds, and auto clubs and hotels, to encourage travel to Canada.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. Dolan thought that was a fine example of a good neighbor. Many are co-operating, he believed, because they were anxious, despite official United States neutrality, to help Canada win this war.

"There is just one feature I would like Canadians to keep in mind. It is a word of caution. When United States visitors come to Canada, let us refrain from criticizing them or their country on their foreign policy."

"Canada decided by vote of Parliament to enter the conflict, as it was a part of the British Empire and a partner of the Allies. All good Canadians should allocate to United States citizens the same right and privilege to decide their foreign policy through their Congress."

In connection with United States currency, Mr. Dolan said the Dominion government had made it obligatory that all tourists entering Canada receive the official rate of exchange. "I want to say that great disservice can be done in connection with our promotional efforts if those who cater to the travelling public neglect to pay the official exchange rate." The government, he said, was determined to see that the exchange rate was paid.

DOMINION

"GREEN HELL"
ON PLAZA BILLHollywood has made a jungle picture in which the jungle is not the star, but rather the background for magnificent acting.
It is a story of seven men and one woman pitted against Nature and, at times, even against each other.That's "Green Hell," Famous Productions' new Douglas Fairbanks Jr.-Joan Bennett picture, which opened today at the Plaza
Theatre.Young Fairbanks comes through with an intensely sympathetic, restrained and yet forceful characterization of the woman-hating bachelor who battles with himself to keep from falling in love at the same time he is battling the jungle to keep alive.Joan Bennett has an acting part worthy of her great dramatic heritage. And she more than lives up to her role.Where to Go Tonight

NOW AT ATLASThe local debut of "Four Wives" will take place today at the Atlas Theatre. A sequel to last year's popular film hit, "Four Daughters," it has the same cast, consisting of the three Lane Sisters:
Priscilla, Rosemary and
Lola; Gale Page, Claude Rains,
Jeffrey Lynn, May Robson,
Frank McHugh and Dick Foran.
Added to the roster of stars is Eddie Albert, comedy star of
"Brother Rat," John Garfield, whose "Mickey Borden" met an untimely death in "Four Daughters," will be seen in "Four Wives," but only as a vision.'Slightly Honorable'
To Be Shown HereRated one of the season's most sophisticated and amusing film stories of scandal in high places, Walter Wanger's "Slightly Honorable," with a cast headed by
Pat O'Brien, Edward Arnold,
Ruth Terry and Broderick Crawford, will open tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre through the United Artists release. It was directed by Tay Garnett.
This is a picture that strikes along two entertainment fronts, coupling a strong dramatic plot with a smart comedy theme, and scoring successfully in both departments. Cast on the Wanger theory of "the best available players for even the smallest roles," the film features a line-up of supporting talent that includes
Alan Dinehart, Claire Dodd,
Phyllis Brooks, Janet Beecher,
Bernard Nedell, Douglas Dumbrille, Eve Arden, Douglas Fowley, John Sheehan and many others.It introduces a new personality to local audiences, Ruth Terry, the "Little Cupcake" of Hollywood. Miss Terry is the 18-year-old actress Wanger pulled out of nowhere and placed in the leading role opposite Pat O'Brien.'Two Bright Boys'
Opens at Oak BayJackie Cooper and Freddie Bartholomew share co-starring honors in their new Universal film "Two Bright Boys," which opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre.Here is a story into which are woven heart-thrills, laughter and the absorbing drama of a youngster's courage in the face of impending disaster. In this picture, both Freddie and Jackie prove their right to a place among the screen's favorites.
Jackie is the penniless youth who defies an unscrupulous oil baron while trying desperately to drill a wildcat well on a rundown Texas farm. He delivers a performance that will strike deep into the hearts of theatregoers. The natural charm and talent which have endeared him to millions are given full opportunity for expression.AMUSING COMEDY
OF MARRIED LIFEIt was a happy choice all around that teamed Robert Taylor and Greer Garson for the first time in "Remember," a refreshingly amusing comedy of modern married life, with Lew Ayres as the third member of the romantic triangle. The picture is the current attraction on the Cadet screen.
Not only do Taylor and Miss
Garson make an attractive star combination that audiences will want to see more of, but they take full advantage of a delicious and novel love story sometimes hilariously funny, sometimes whimsically tender, which adds up to perfect entertainment.'CAPTAIN FURY'
ON RIO SCREENWith a cast headed by such outstanding players as Brian Aherne, Victor McLaglen and June Lang, and a story of stirring adventure and rich romance, Hal Roach's "Captain Fury" is now on the screen of the Rio Theatre as a United Artists release. In addition to having the talents of an outstanding supporting cast, headed by John Carradine, Paul Lukas,
George Zucco, Virginia Field,
Douglas Dumbrille and Mary

OUT OUR WAY—

By William Ferguson

Congo River C
Make Lake Eac Day

Among the world's rivers, the Congo ranks high. It is close to 3,000 miles long, and drains an area of more than a million square miles. Only one river—the Amazon—pours more water into the ocean than the Congo.

A boat on the Congo River.

The Congo rises in the heart of Africa, and flows northward for a distance of about 1,200 miles. Then it turns west and runs toward the Atlantic. Dozens of streams and rivers, some of them of large size, join the Congo on its way to the ocean.

The mighty river winds through the Belgian Congo, which is larger than France, Spain, Italy and Germany put together. Think of a little country like Belgium owning such a big colony!

The Belgian Congo is of great size, but it is not thickly settled. It contains only about one-fourth as many people as live in France. The number of people per square mile is about 11.

That, of course, is a general average. The people are not spread out evenly. Thousands of square miles have no people at all, while other parts have villages or cities. The largest Congo city has 26,000 people.

It is figured that the Congo River pours about 1,200,000 cubic feet of water into the Atlantic each second of the day. The amount of water it empties in a day would make a lake two miles wide and four miles long, with an average depth of 464 feet.

Ocean steamers can travel into the Congo River and upstream for a distance of 110 miles. Then they meet rapids. It is possible for some steamers to travel on the water above the rapids, but the water is not deep enough there for the larger ocean-going vessels.

On a trip from one end of the Congo to the other, a person might pass hundreds of boats used by natives. These often are little more than logs which have been hollowed out.

At the mouth of the Congo is a town with an odd name. It is called "Banana," and serves as a seaport.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, APRIL 16

Benefic planets rule today. Although the morning plans for building or other constructive work may be hampered by other demands, the stars encourage accomplishment. There is a sign warning of deceit and treachery in international affairs.

Women should be most fortunate today, for the stars presage happy romance as well as worthwhile achievement. Hasty marriages and engagement on short acquaintance will be marked in the next few months. Attire is to assume special significance as girls put on uniforms for various branches of public service. Nursing and first aid will engage increasing attention.

Prospecting for rare minerals will be carried on scientifically through the coming summer, when there will be increased demand for products from the earth itself previously little known. Inventors will achieve marvels in sound transmission and the west will lead in the general use of television.

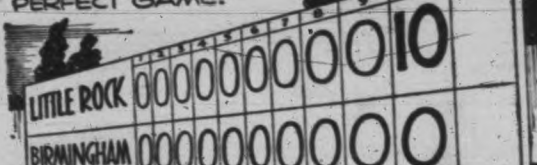

In the summer the world is to make decisions that may lead to the downfall of what is called civilization. The stars presage ultimate peace after February 15, 1941, when a period of better understanding among the nations of the world will dawn.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune. The young may feel that their elders hamper them, but it is well to listen to the voice of experience.

Children born on this day may be strongly optimistic and helpful because of their cheerful dispositions. These subjects of Aries may have talents for music or acting.

The Young People's Society of the Victoria Truth Centre met recently. They were favored with a vocal solo by Iona McDermid, accompanied by Margaret Elrick. With the subject "Healing" to discuss, the Society divided into two groups. Ronald Digby and Cecil Mickelson were in charge of one, and Alan Soulsby and William McGillivray the other.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The END OF A PERFECT GAME.

SOUTHERN ASSN. BASEBALL GAME, MAY 15, 1938.

The TWO-HEADED SNAKE, OF BRAZIL, GETS ITS NAME BECAUSE OF THE STUBBY TAIL, WHICH RESEMBLES A HEAD. NATIVES SAY IT BITES WITH EITHER END.

ANSWER: Buffalo, on the Great Lakes, and Albany, on the Hudson River.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

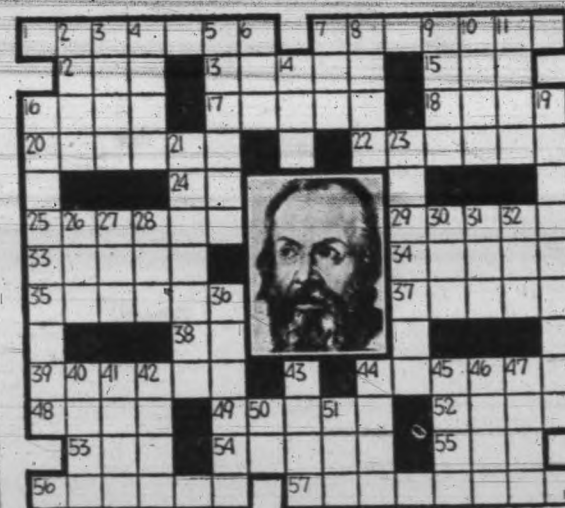

DEAR MISS DIX—Please tell me if I should be dismayed or thrilled when the boy of my dreams tells me I am like a sister to him. I can't figure out whether this is a good or bad sign. I am rather popular with boys, but on every date they pour out their troubles to me and ask my advice on their love affairs. I am getting tired of this and don't know what to do. WORRIED GIRL.

Answer—When a boy tells you he regards you as a sister you had as well abandon hope of his ever being anything more than a brother. So give him the air and hunt up a new prospect whose sentiments are less fraternal. For no boy looks upon his sister as a figure of romance, and he always wonders what it is that other lads see in her that makes them hang around the house and spend their money on dragging her out to dates.

Of course, it shows that you have a lovely character and that there is something very sweet and maternal about you that causes all the boys to make you their confidant and sob out the story of their blighted loves on your shoulder. But there is no percentage in it for you and the sooner you resign the job of being Public Comforter the better for you. This will require tact on your part. For a date is a date, even if you do have to listen to Tom rave over Sally's complexion that you know is synthetic and it won't do to tell him bluntly that she buys it at the drug store.

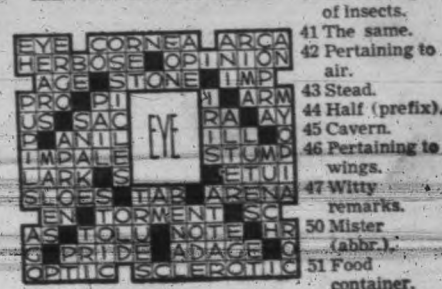

But, on the other hand, there is no use in being too enthusiastic about Sally and join in his song of praise. Your cue is to act a little bored and throw a few well-directed dashes of cold water on his rave, the while you call attention to your own charms. And it won't do a bit of harm if you work so assiduously at incense-burning that he will go away feeling that while, of course, Sally is a pretty girl and all that, you are the only one who has ever really appreciated what a wonderful, intelligent, sophisticated man of the world he is. DOROTHY DIX.

Lesson to Neutrals

LONDON—Arthur Greenwood, Labor Member of Parliament, voiced a popular sentiment in a London address this week-end, in which he said Hitler has "put a dagger at his back" in the Scandinavian invasion.

Mr. Greenwood added that the "invasion ought to prove to every independent small state in Europe that there is no safety in continued cowardice, and that it would be better for them in their own interests to come into this fight with us now."

HOW TO OVERCOME
ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemorrhoid is highly recommended, is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

BLOATED WITH GAS; HAD SLUGGISH KIDNEYS UNTIL
SHE TOOK MOSBY'S TONIC

Mrs. McKiernon of Young St., Victoria, Suffered Real Distress With Stomach Gas; Had Sharp Pains in Her Back Due to Sluggish Kidneys; But Now She Says: "I Feel Different All Over! Mosby's Tonic Certainly Gave Me Relief!"

MRS. B. MCKIERNON of 417 Young St., Victoria, Is Adding Her Name to the Long List of Widely-known Canadian Residents Who Are Publicly Praising Mosby's Tonic.

"I never would have believed there was such a medicine." That is what people are saying about MOSBY'S TONIC in many parts of this vicinity. This New, Scientific Formula is now being introduced in this city by a special Mosby's Tonic Representative, direct from Mosby Tonic Laboratories, at the Cunningham Drug Store (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.) Fort and Douglas Sts. Day after day some of the best-known residents of this section come forward with Grateful Statements, publicly endorsing this Splendid Compound. Seldom in history, say druggists, has any medicine been so widely endorsed before.

Had Sluggish Kidneys
and Stomach Gas

"I certainly had real suffering, due to a very sluggish condition of my kidneys," said Mrs. McKiernon. "There was a constant burning irritation because of this sluggish kidney action, and I guess it was due to poisons that accumulated in my kidneys for a long time. Whatever it was, I know it was distressing! I would have sharp pains in my back, and besides this kidney sluggishness, I was a regular victim of stomach gas. I felt bloated with gas, not only after meals, but I would be bloated up with this gas ALL DAY LONG. I had suffered so much that I began to feel weak, tired and downy, which is unusual for me because I have always been an active person."

Relieved Sluggish
Kidneys; Cleared Stomach
Gas

"I read a lot about Mosby's Tonic and I noticed especially that so many Good, Honest People were endorsing it. Therefore, I made up my mind to try this medicine, which I did, and now I have taken my third bottle, and I want you to know that I am feeling so different that I want to publicly praise Mosby's Tonic because I believe it will help others who suffer like I did. I think the finest thing about this medicine is the way it relieved my sluggish kidneys, for I don't have that burning sensation any more, and no more pains and aches in my back. Another thing, that gaseous bloating in my stomach has cleared out. In fact, I noticed relief from gas after the very first dose. I don't feel tired and worn out like I did before. In fact, I feel different ALL OVER, and I am so happy I got Mosby's Tonic and took it that I want others to know about this fine medicine."

Costs Only a Few Cents a Day to Take It!

You have read the Grateful Statement above, describing what Mosby's Tonic did for this widely-known person. Now, bear this in mind, that it acts on your system in several ways. ALL AT ONCE, namely: Helps flush bowels and clear out stomach gas, aids digestion and relieves sluggish kidneys; helps you to get richer and stronger blood. So, try this New, Scientific Formula. It is helping THOUSANDS of sufferers all over this vicinity.

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as THE MOSBY TONIC MAN, is now at the CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.) Fort and Douglas Sts., Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

Major Baseball
Opens Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP)—Their wrath at the weather about exhausted from unseasonable training conditions, major league baseball clubs waited hopefully today for a breath of spring to blast tomorrow's eight-game opening program.

There was reason to believe they might get it. Dry conditions prevailed throughout the east and Midwest.

The inaugural will include these games:

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Boston at Washington.
New York at Philadelphia.
Cleveland at Chicago.
St. Louis at Detroit.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.
Brooklyn at Boston.
Philadelphia at New York.

These attractions should bring a first-day turnout of more than 150,000 fans, possibly as many as 200,000.

President Roosevelt will continue the presidential custom of throwing out the first ball in Washington.

The presence at Philadelphia of New York Yankees, bent on achieving their fifth consecutive American League and world championships, will give the Athletics' debut a share in the spotlight while National League attention will be focussed on the pennant-defending Cincinnati Reds' getaway against Chicago Cubs.

The Reds again have all the important figures of their 1939 pennant drive, but they are depending on two newcomers, Mike McCormick and Vince DiMaggio, for outfield duty and the new spark they'll need to repeat.

PRINTING BUREAU
GOLFERS VICTORS

The combined Times-Colonist printing squad of golfers, suffering from an acute case of "off day," went down to defeat, 27 to 15, at the hands of Charlie Barnes' field's ball-wallpapers from the Government Printing Bureau yesterday when they met for their annual spring challenge match on the Uplands fairways.

This was a preliminary to the big annual Graphic Arts tournament to be staged at Colwood June 23.

The weatherman co-operated to the limit, giving the boys a whole day of sunshine. A half-hundred printers, reporters, engravers and other persons who work in printing and newspaper establishments were on hand for the match.

Five Senior
Ball Squads

Officials of the Victoria Baseball Association announced today that the Army will enter a team in the first division of the association, making it a five-team circuit.

The senior army sports officer reported to Secretary Sid Thomas that an application for a franchise in the senior loop was now in the mail. The Army club is reported to have some fine material on its roster. Eagles, Navy, Tillicum Athletics and last year's champion Pitzer and Nex are the other senior entries.

More than 40 players turned out at Athletic Park yesterday morning for the weekly mass training session. Tomorrow night Tillicum will practice at Athletic Park and Eagles at Beacon Hill Park at 5:30.

At yesterday's training session there were a number of new players in attendance from out-of-town points.

Closing date for second division entries has been left in the hands of the executive. With the Victoria Indians entry received seven clubs are now ready to swing into action in this division and one more is anticipated. Pitzer and Nex, Eagles, Navy, Brown Bombers, Club and Cedar Hill have entered. Oak Bay Wanderers is the expected entry.

It was decided at yesterday's meeting of the association that the Victoria All-Star nine, which made a splendid showing last season, will usher in the 1940 season on May 24 when they will oppose an out-of-town club.

Dale Winner
In Fast Time

BERKELEY, Cal. (AP)—Leon, blond Cornelius Warmerdam, a man with a mission, sped down the runway here Saturday waging a long bamboo pole. He hit the takeoff with a zing, soared over the crossbar, and while the cheers of 5,000 track and field fans filled the air, the announcing system blared out the startling fact that the world's pole vault record had been bettered—the San Francisco Olympic Club star had cleared an even 15 feet.

Warmerdam's prodigious feat provided the anticlimax to a triangular meet bringing together athletes from the Olympic Club, Washington State College and the University of California.

The recognized record is 14 feet 11 inches, set jointly by Earle Meadows and Bill Sefton while competing for the University of Southern California, in the Pacific Coast Conference meet in Los Angeles, May 29, 1937.

Times and distances otherwise were only ordinary, although Bill Dale, Washington State star from Victoria, B.C., turned in a commendable half-mile victory in 1:55.

One of the disappointments was the showing of Lee Orr, Washington State student from Vancouver, B.C., in the 440-yard dash. Potentially one of the best in the country over this route, Orr ran third to a winning time of 47.9 seconds posted by Clarence Barnes of the University of California.

Elton Wieman, of the Olympic Club, also passed Orr in the last few yards.

Orr, however, had enough run in him to win the 220-yard hurdles, his other specialty. He was clocked in 24.2 seconds.

The annual meeting of the Langford Tennis Club will be held on April 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Levesque, Millstream Road, at S.

Westerns Lift
Women's Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Westerns defeated Vancouver IXL, 38 to 37, in overtime here Saturday night to win the right to represent British Columbia in the Dominion women's basketball championship final.

Westerns will meet Edmonton Gradenettes or Winnipeg Dominions here later this month for the title.

Pay Burnham, sharpshooting Westerns star, led her team to victory as she piled in 14 points, two of them from a basket in the final minute of overtime that decided the issue.

EDMONTON WINS

kings, a 205 pounder, was used in cracking the line. It was Watkins who scored 'Lomas' touchdown at the nine-minute mark of the first quarter.

Wilson carrying the ball on two successive first downs and a 15-yard penalty on Alumni for high tackling put the ball on the 12-yard line from where the big boy took it around his own left end for the score. Bud Fairgrievs converted on a place kick.

A rouge earlier in the quarter for one-point gave 'Lomas' a 7 to 0 lead when the quarter closed. Dale was caught for the rouge on a long punt by Wally Erratt.

CULLIN SCORES
Victoria gained possession on 'Lomas' 15-yard line when a long punt by Dale was fumbled early in the second quarter, and the scene was set for a touch-down. The crowd wasn't disappointed either. Cullin cracked through the right side of Vancouver's line for a 10-yard gain and on the next play the stocky half back dove across for the score. Dale missed the extra point boot. The score stood at 7 to 5.

Dale was rouged for a second time in the third quarter when Watkins kicked across the line after his team had marched down the field on line plays.

But Victoria were by no means out of the running, despite the 8 to 5 score. They applied the pressure to advance to Vancouver's 13-yard line, where they lost the ball on downs. Watkins fumbled a snap on 'Lomas' first play from this point, and stepped back over the line making a safety touch, to give the locals two points for the final 8 to 7 score.

Following the game Alumni were presented the Native Sons of Canada Trophy as winners of the city league. Dale received the presentation from Bob MacLachlin, a member of the executive of the local assembly.

Dick Hamon, acting skipper of the Meralomas, was presented the World Trophy for the B. C. championship, by Robert Lee, Vancouver league official.

Officials for the game were: McLaughlin, referee; Hutton, Vancouver, umpire; Shields, head linesman.

the headlines. In addition to being wild, Vander Meer has not been a close enough observer of hitters and the game in general.

So in place of being a prospective 20-game winner, which he should be with his blazing speed and terrifying delivery, Vander Meer is worse off than he was when he broke in.

Speaking of prospective 20-game major league winners, the lone sure pop is the amazing Robert Feller. Only a mishap of some kind will stop the Iowa farm boy this side of '25.

Right-handed, Bob Feller has all the left-handed Vander Meer had at his peak moments in 1938, and then some, not the least of which is poise and ambition. He pitches, talks, sleeps and eats baseball. He's a student from way-back.

Red Ruffing may cop 20 for the fifth consecutive campaign, but age is creeping upon the one-time mine boy. Buck Newsom has grabbed 20 two seasons in a row with bad clubs and works often enough to do it again despite Detroit's lead-footed infield. Dutch Leonard will be fortunate to do it once more with Washington, although he is an outstanding performer.

A newer candidate is Marius Russo, the left-handed former Long Island University basketball player with the New York Yankees.

In the National League, few expect Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer to repeat their 27 and 25-game seasons of a year ago, but they must be included in any list of prospective 20-game winners. So must Curt Davis of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The scarcity of prospective 20-game winners best tells how difficult it is to bag that many engagements in a single season in the majors.

RANGERS IN SMASHING
COMEBACK TO WIN CUP

From Hiller the puck went to Watson in a corner and from there it sped to Hextall before the cage. The duck shooter drove it home victoriously.

The Rangers, who won the first two games at home and lost the third and fourth before closing with two straight victories, succeeded Boston to the cup and world title. They won it last in 1933, when Bill Cook shot the winning overtime goal in the fourth and last contest of a best-of-five series with Toronto.

Six times Toronto and the Rangers have gone into overtime: Stanley Cup play and the New York team has won every one of those games.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel weak and the world looks black.

A natural movement doesn't always occur at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these pounds of bile flowing freely and make you "rarin' to go." Headaches and general ill-health make the bile flow freely. They do the work of catalyst but leave no colored or watery in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Don't buy anything else.
